Dist. 4 race: experience versus environment push

by GLORIA DAVIS

On Tuesday, March 15, general primary elections for federal, state, county offices and local referenda will take place with village and township polling places open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Antioch area voters are being asked to cast their ballots for two Lake County Board members from Dist. 4 in a contest where incumbents Jim Fields, Antioch, and Fred Popp, Lake Villa, are being challenged by Larry Leafblad, Highland Lake, and Suzi Schmidt, Lake Villa Twp.

The Antioch Twp. Republican committeemen have endorsed Fields and Popp over challengers Schmidt and Leafblad for Dist. 4 County Board membership.

Fields, a native of Antioch, has been on the County Board for seven years, taking over the board's chairmanship after a marathon vote last year. He also serves as Antioch Twp. supervisor.

Fields stands on the record of the present County Board that he claims is running well financially and also delivering services.

He cites the saving of $3 million in refinancing the bonds on the Lake County Jail and the $82,000 revenue brought in by the county's building and zoning department for inspections as part of the cost effectiveness of those now serving on the County Board.

Fred Popp, Lake Villa, former Lake Villa Twp. supervisor, who has been a County Board member for five years, is running for reelection on a platform of the need for experience to handle upcoming important County Board decisions to be made on solid waste, stormwater drainage, water supply, taxes, future land use and growth.

Schmidt, a Lake Villa Twp. Board member, and political neophyte Leafblad, a well known Lake County radio personality working for WKRS and WXLC, are hitting the incumbents in their planning and zoning solar plexis by spouting the need for greater environmental protection, calling for continued growth but with more control and citing the county for what they call its lack of monitoring constant building and zoning violations.

Also on the March 15 ballot will be a percent more than normal and an all-time primary high. Interest in two Illinois Presidential candidates, controversial county executive question, election of precinct committeepersons and 18 referenda questions may trigger record turnout.—Photo by John Doetsch.

Stabbing victim collapses in eatery, police arrest 2, they confess beating

by GLORIA DAVIS

Peg's Country Kitchen on Main St. lost some of its casual charm for a while last week when a naked man covered with blood fell in the door at about 6 p.m. and collapsed.

The victim, Dan Foren, 28, of Romulus, Mich., a former resident of Antioch visiting friends, was stabbed dozens of times by two men in a robbery attempt.

The Antioch Police arrested the two men the victim has accused of the stabbing and beating on Thursday, the day after the incident.

According to Lt. Tom Fisher, Ronnie Carrol, 23, West Dundee, an ex-convict with a long list of arrests for burglary, assault and larceny, was arrested in the home of his girlfriend at the Oakridge Apartments while the Antioch Police were involved in multiple drug arrests along with the Lake County Sheriff's Dept.

The other man, Anthony Kendall, 21, Elgin, who is awaiting trial on a burglary charge in Kane County, fitting a description given by the victim, was sighted by Sgt. Charles Watkins on the way to the drug arrests and taken into custody.

Foren sustained multiple stab wounds, a broken arm and a badly damaged eye. He is in satisfactory condition at Victory Memorial Hospital with possible leg surgery pending.

He identified both Carrol and Kendall from a photo lineup. Confronted with the evidence, both men confessed to the stabbing, beating and attempted robbery. Both are in Lake County Jail being held under $200,000 bond charged with aggravated battery, armed robbery, attempted first degree murder and armed violence.

The victim told police he had met the men after his car got stuck on Rte. 59 by Ace Hardware as they were towing a vehicle from the West End Gas Station

ACHS is in math competition

On Feb. 25, the ninth Annual Antioch-Warren Invitational Math Competition was held at Warren Township High School in Gurnee. A total of 285 students from 12 schools participated in written competition in algebra I, geometry, algebra II and advanced topics; an eight-person team event; a five-person calculator team test; and three versions of four-person relay competition.

Stevenson High School took overall first place honors.

Antioch High School students made a strong showing and finished in second place overall. Top finishers for Antioch were: second place in geometry written by Mike Matson and Matt Stedl; second place in algebra II written by Pam Oldenburger and Chris Kapsalis; third place in all-level relay/Blue Devil division by Tricia Salmi, Matt Stedl, Amber Traugott, Michelle Veltman, Traci Atkinson and Jim McClure; and first place in the calculator team event by Michelle Dalgaard, Eric Dahl, Chris Kapsalis, Jim McClure and Jerry Ruscko. In all, 32 Antioch students participated in the competition.

Coming up for the Antioch math team on Tuesday, March 8, is the fifth test of six in the Illinois Math League Competition and on March 12 regional competition in Rockford for the Illinois State Competition.

Subcommittees report on Dist. 34 revamp choices

by GLORIA DAVIS

The subcommittees appointed to investigate the possible reorganization of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 reported back to the board of education last week.

The committees made four recommendations for the board to consider. The first recommendation is that the district remain as it is, a K5 Dist. with four buildings (Upper Grade, Lower Grade, Petty and Oakland) and do whatever is needed to free-up space in downtown Antioch for expansion of the Lower Grade School.

The second recommendation was that the board look into the possibility of the Lower Grade School and Oakland going to K3 (kindergarten through third grade) and W. C. Petty having grades four and five.

The third idea is to switch the Lower Grade School and Oakland to K4 (kindergarten through fourth grade) and Petty K5 (kindergarten through fifth grade), leaving the Upper grade School with grades six through eight.

The fourth alternative suggested is that the Lower Grade School have kindergarten through third grade classes and Petty and Oakland have kindergarten through fifth grade classes, with the Upper Grade classes remaining the same.

According to Dist. 34 Supt. Don Skidmore, he will spearhead the getting together of data on transportation, enrollment statistics and boundary changes required in all four suggestions.

Skidmore says that he should have all this information for the board to look at by April 5.

Twenty to 30 electors attended the meeting. Some asked questions during the public discussion part of the meeting, some seemed to be there just to listen and gather information on the proposed reorganization.

About 10 of those attending have been closely following the proposed reorganization since its inception. They were that night, and have been, vociferously opposed to the reorganization on the basis of the "chaos" of the separation of children of the same family having to attend different schools. Children and families having to deal with the uprooting of having to change schools too often in the primary grades is another of their objections.

Mattson wins WKRS cook-off

WKRS-AM 1220 congratulates Carol Mattson of Antioch, the first-place winner in the Great WKRS Cook-Off. Jean Belski of North Chicago was second, and Fritz Krause, also of North Chicago, was third.

Each of the winners received a prize furnished by Ferguson's Discount Center in Libertyville. The prizes included two 30-inch gas ranges and a General Electric Spacesaver II microwave oven.

The competition was held in the kitchens of the Lake County Area Vocational Center. Listeners were asked to write in with their recipes.

They then had to call within 12 minutes and 20 seconds after their recipe was read on the air. All who qualified received a set of food containers furnished by General Foods.

Lions sponsor Bears

The Antioch Lions Club will again sponsor the "Good News Bears" traveling basketball team in a game against local teams on Friday, March 25. The game is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. and will be held at Antioch Community High School. Tickets will soon be on sale by members of the Antioch Lions Club and at Antioch's financial institutions. Teachers plan dinner in honor of Lindblad

The Antioch Community High School Education Assn. is sponsoring a recognition dinner in honor of Bob Lindblad on Friday, April 15, at the Antioch Golf Course, south of Antioch on Rte. 59.

After serving on the Antioch High School Board of Education for 23 years, including 14 years as its president, Lindblad retired in November, 1987.

The community is invited to gather in his honor at 6 p.m. for cocktails, dinner at 7 p.m., and the program at 8 p.m.

Groups or individuals interested in making a presentation during the program are asked to contact Fran Waible at (312)395-1421.

Checks for $15 for dinner can be made payable to ACHSEA and may be sent to the high school in care of Ann Kakacek. Include names and addresses along with a request for tickets.

AUGS parents to meet

Parent-Teacher Conferences will be held on Thursday, March 17, at Antioch Upper Grade School. The teacher in-service day will be on Friday, March 18. There will be no school on Thursday, March 17 or Friday, March 18.

The school staff encourages parents to carefully check their student's report card for requests for conferences with teachers. Report cards will be sent home with students on Monday, March 14.

Third quarter parent-teacher conferences are very important in that students will have enough time to improve their grades.

All research available to the school clearly shows that those students whose parents/guardian stays in close communication with the school constantly achieve at a higher level.

School Supt. Ballock blasts state testing plan

"Last week at Emmons School, parents were given information about the new state mandated student assessment program which, in the school's opinion, threatens to undo the fine instructional program already in place at Emmons," said Jill Ballock, Emmons superintendent.

In a letter to all parents, Ballock delineated the details of the state program which will test children in grades three, six and eight in reading, math, language arts, science, social science, fine arts, physical development and health.

"I am sure state legislators were most sincere in providing a program of educational accountability for schools in Illinois not doing so," said Supt. Ballock. "However, at Emmons School we already have a systematic program of evaluation. Our children test in the top 11 percent on nationally normed achievement tests. Our very competent staff evaluates student progress on a daily basis. Parents and the community receive frequent and positive information about student achievement."

Ballock commented that state requirements have taken great amounts of student, teacher and administration time at Emmons. Prior to the required testing in April, several reading class periods will be taken with third, sixth and eighth graders to prepare them for the unusual test they will be taking.

The state testing format in reading has questions requiring more than one "right" answer (multiple, multiple choice) and questions requiring yes, maybe, no responses which are weighted for degree of correctness.

In terms of testing time, Ballock estimates at least three hours per subject area at grades three, six and eight. When that is multiplied by six (the number of subjects required to be tested by the state by 1993) more than 18 hours will be spent in state testing.

Managing the assessment will require expensive computerized programs and additional staff. It is estimated that each teacher involved could spend as much as 100 hours per year on evaluation and record keeping required by the state.

Ballock added, "There are many negative effects of this: test-weary children, demoralized staff, more substitute teaching (while teachers attend required workshops), additional burden on local resources and encroachment into the regular educational program. For every hour of testing, a teacher-developed activity will be subtracted from the student's day."

The Emmons School Board and staff are hoping for a re-evaluation (or repeal) of this program by the state. In a letter last week, parents were urged to contact Sen. Adeline Geo Karis and Rep. Bob Churchill requesting them to consider the damage this program would do.

"State mandated testing of this magnitude is intrusive to the personalized locally developed educational program we have in place," said Ballock. "Our legislators must be encouraged to take another look at a well intentioned program which has become a nightmare."

Emmons plans 1988 class of kindergarten

Emmons School is making plans for next year's kindergarten class. A child must be five years of age on or before Sept. 1 of this year to be eligible for kindergarten.

Parents and prospective kindergarteners are invited to a Kindergarten Welcome Meeting on Thursday, April 14, at 1:30 p.m. in the kindergarten room. Registration papers and health forms will be available at this time.

Pre-kindergarten screening and registration are scheduled for Thursday, April 21. Screening will take about one hour and should be scheduled by appointment. A birth certificate must be presented at registration. Call the school office at (312)395-1105 to make an appointment.

Letters have been sent to parents of identified kindergarteners. If any new parent at Emmons did not receive such a letter, contact the school.

ACHS plans to do musical

The Antioch Community High School's Jazz Ensemble's annual musical variety show, "Jazz Journey III" will be presented one weekend only, March 10, 11 and 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The entire cast including the jazz ensemble, show choir and Madrigal will open the show with "You There In The Back Row" from the Broadway presentation "13 Days to Broadway."

The jazz ensemble will also perform some standard jazz numbers, a Count Basie tune called "Funtime" and a modern arrangement of an old big band song called "How High The Moon."

The show choir, under the direction of Kathy Cratty, will perform four numbers this year, including "Rockin' Robin," "Somewhere Out There," "Walkin' on Sunshine," and "Farmer Tan."

Tickets can be obtained from band students or at the door in a limited number. All tickets are payable at the door, $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students. Show time is 7:30 p.m. in the ACHS auditorium.

Schedule luncheon

St. Peters Church, Antioch, will host an ecumenical luncheon in Father Frawley Hall at noon on Tuesday, March 15. Soup and beverages will be provided.

Guests are asked to bring a salad or desert to pass and a can of food for the food pantry. This is one of several lunches planned by local churches to support ecumenical efforts during Lent.

All the churches of Antioch are urged to participate. Call Ceil Jordan at (312)395-7030 for information.

Dist. 34 schedules sign-up

Registration for fall kindergarten classes for residents of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 have been set for Tuesday, March 15, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 6:30 to 8 p.m.; Wednesday, March 16, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and on Thursday, March 17, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The kindergarten sign-ups will take place at the individual school, Antioch Lower Grade, W. C. Petty and Oakland Grade School.

Green Machine to send 5 to state

by CAROLYN HAMMOND

Has the "March lion" been tamed already? Has anyone seen a robin? Or is spring only an illusion that a great big snowstorm is going to destroy? Soon we'll be the ACHS Fine Arts Dept.'s annual spring variety show, "Jazz Journey III," at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 10, Friday, March 11 and Saturday, March 12. Don't miss this! It's always one of the year's renowned composer and director John Edmondson. Edmondson, an authority in music for the young band, has more than 600 publications in band and educational music to his credit. He will be in rehearsal with the AUGS senior and junior bands that day, with the concert in the evening. Come out for a pleasurable evening of music. Tickets will be available at the door.

In addition, on the next day, March 19, the AUGS Senior Band will compete in the organizational contest hoping to repeat their first superior score. Do it, kids!

Rounding out a very busy March 12 are two local area dinner dances. The Antioch VFW Post 4551 will hold a St. Patrick's Day celebration with corned beef and cabbage dinner-dance at the post home, 75 North Ave., Antioch. complaining about how hot it is and turning on our air conditioners. Somehow, as we march into the "Ides of March," that thought is vaguely comforting.

Also marching on...the Green Machine Mat Rats are still at it! After winning first place with 250 points and placing 16 out of its 22 wrestlers in the eight-team regional tournament of the Illinois Kids' Wrestling Federation (IKWF) on Feb. 27, the Antioch Upper Grade School Wrestling Apaches advanced to the IKWF sectional tournament March 5.

In good stiff competition with only 21 points separating the top six winning teams in a 22-team meet, the AUGS Apaches placed fourth, losing by an agonizing one and a half points to third place Round Lake Spartans Wrestling Club. However, the Apaches performed well above the law of averages and of its 16 wrestlers placed eighth, and will send five to the state tournament March 11 and 12 at the Northern Illinois University DeKalb Fieldhouse.

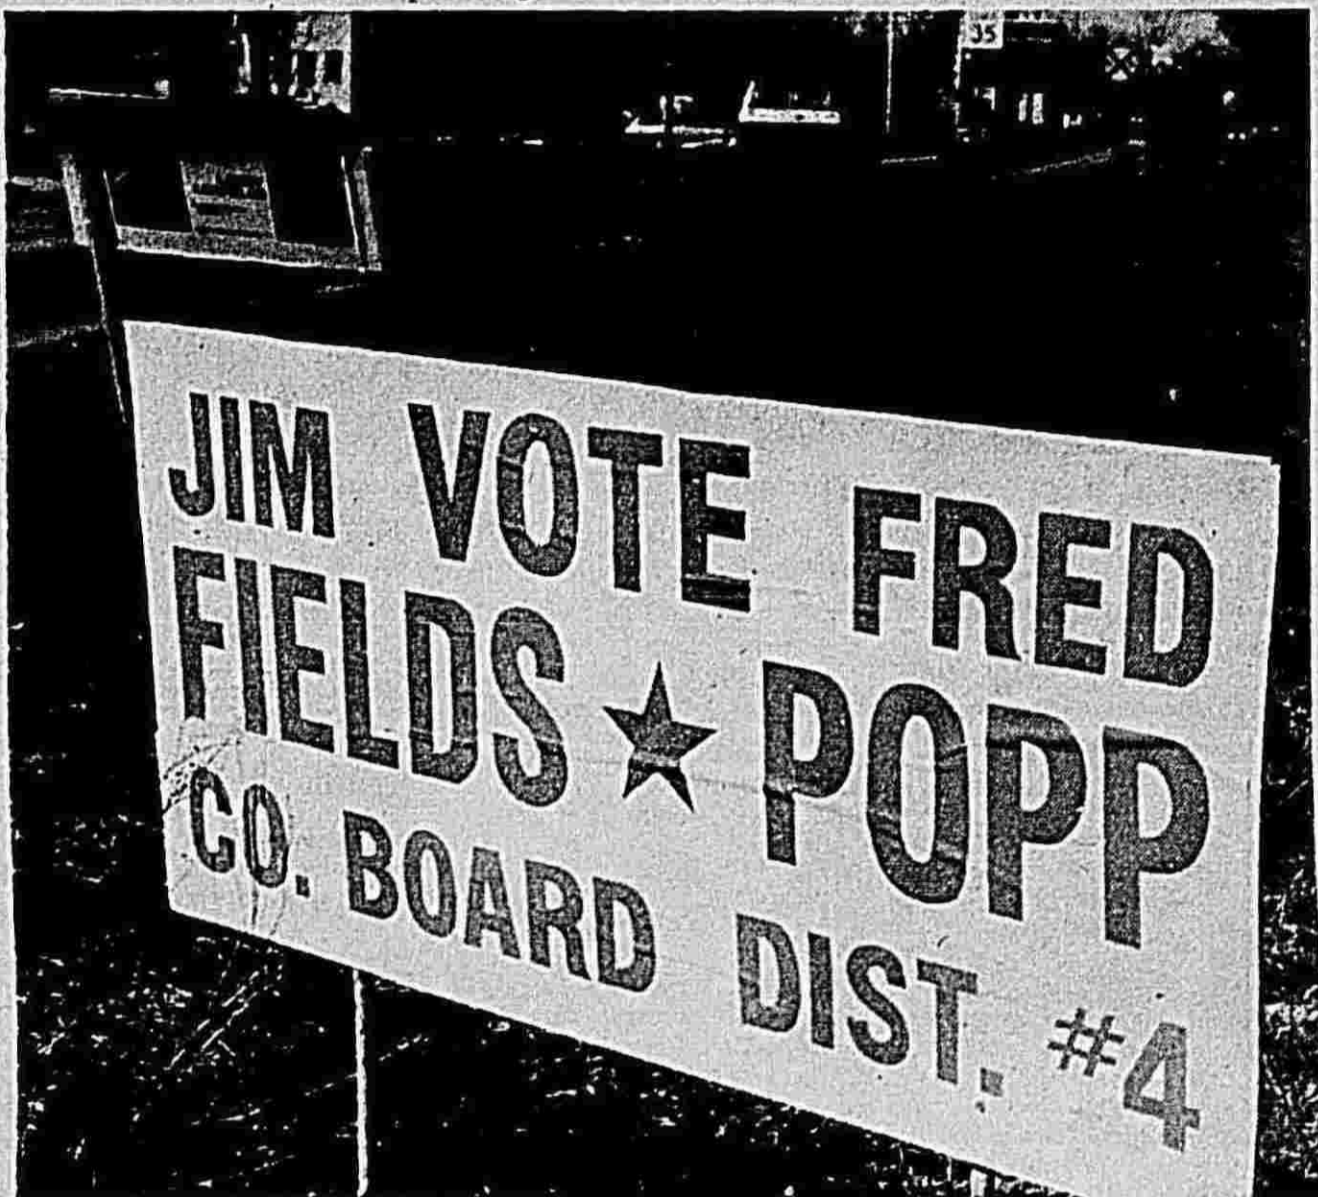

Advancing to the state tournament are: 112 pounds, Tim Lehn; 135 pounds, Tom Lehn; 185 pounds, Kevin Wisniewski; 135 pounds, Dean Parkman; and heavyweight Mike Stahmer.

Placing below third place and thus not advancing to the state tournament were 77 pounds, Greg Zalapi, fourth; 92 pounds, Greg Guntharp, fourth; and 152 pounds, Phil Rinlaub.

Another rite of spring—the Antioch Community High School Jazz Band has been practicing in its annual jazz band (mini) camp in preparation for Speaking of crowd pleasers—the Antioch Upper Grade School Bands are also practicing and looking forward to their concert at 7 p.m. March 18, with world-

50-cent education fund tax rate hike being asked for by Grass Lake School. Electors in Antioch School Dist. 36 will get a second chance to vote on a referendum calling for the tax rate hike. The same referendum lost by 13 votes in the November election.

Antioch Twp. Republican committeemen have also endorsed unchallenged incumbents State Sen Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Dist. 31-Zion).

State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Dist. 62-Lake Villa), Coroner Barbara Richardson, Recorder Frank Nustra, State's Atty. Fred Foreman and Sally Coffelt, circuit court clerk.

Also on the ballot countywide is the much written and talked about proposition to adopt an executive form of government, or a vote yes or no on whether or not Lake County should have a county executive position.

Stabbing

at the intersection of Rtes. 59 and 173.

He asked them for help and they said they would after they towed their vehicle. A third man was present then.

It was the towing of this car to the Oakridge Apartments on Main St. that later helped to lead the police to Carroll and Kendall.

After the three helped Foren get his car back on the road, he took them for a thank-you drink at Dantes where Carroll and Kendall noted that Foren had a lot of money. This was when the third man left.

On a ruse, the accused got Foren to drive to the train tracks by Depot St. where they continually stabbed him and beat him, stripping him in search of the money that he had dropped off at a house earlier unbeknownst to them.

Foren said that he finally grabbed the knife by the blade, threw it away and ran.

This was when he stumbled into Pegs Kitchen and begged owner Peggy Van Patten, "Help me, I've been stabbed and beaten."

It was terrible, like a horror movie, he was completely covered with blood and I couldn't even see his face," said Van Patten.

There were no customers in the restaurant. Van Patten covered him and called 911 for the Antioch Rescue Squad which arrived along with the police within minutes.

Afraid that he might choke if he were to lay flat, Van Patten held his head in her lap until the rescue squad and the police arrived.

We've done a lot of praying for him since," added Van Patten.

Antioch Fire Station will receive redecorating

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch Fire Station will be seeing some redecorating now that the village board has approved paying half of the $9,000 bill for some painting and refurbishing.

The Antioch Fire Protection Dist. will pick-up the other half of the tab: $4,900 for refurbishing of the water tower; $3,010 for repainting, etc. two offices; $1,050 for repairing and repainting the underwater recovery boat.

The biggest expenditure of $102,673, approved by the Antioch Village Board at its regular meeting on Monday, was the sixth payment to Indiana Construction for the sewer construction project bringing the village sewer plant up to state standards.

According to McClure Engineering, the sewer project construction is where it should be to reach the target major completion date of July 1.

The project should be completely finished by August.

The board heard that a representative of Commonwealth Edison is scheduled to speak at 6:45 p.m., on Monday, April 4, preceeding a regular board meeting at the village hall. The ComEd representative is expected to give explanations answering the village's objection to the new rate hike requested by that utility.

County Board ready to change

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

County Board Member Bruce Hansen (R-Lake Zurich) waxed eloquent in opposition to the proposal to create a county executive at Tuesday's regular session of the County Board.

Quoting Shakespeare, he said, "Beware the ides of March," a reference to the fact that the referendum on the issue will be held on March 15.

An observer in the gallery cracked that, "All the world's a stage," would be a more appropriate Shakespearean quote for the County Board.

Lake County voters will be asked whether to adopt the county executive form of government when they go to the polls. The proposal would replace the current system of a chairman elected by board members. If passed, committeemen in each party will select a candidate to run in the general election in November. An executive would have veto power and authority to hire and fire department heads, powers that the chairman does not have.

The proposal has come under heavy fire from most County Board members and this meeting, the last session before the primary election, was no exception.

Hansen proposed an amendment to the resolution approving the 1988 Lake County legislative program. The amendment would have created a 15-member "blue ribbon" panel to study the form of county government and make recommendations for change. Members were to be appointed by the County Board chairman with approval of the full board.

"If we had such a group in place a year ago, there might not be a referendum on the ballot right now,"

Hansen said. "We need to do some things to streamline government, but we need a plan that is well-thought out and carefully studied. The county executive form of government has not been carefully studied by anyone."

Don Strenger (R-Lake Forest) said the proposal was not a bad idea, "but there's going to be an election on March 15 and I don't think we should be setting up such a committee until we see what happens at the election."

Fred Popp (R-Lake Villa) asked Hansen if his proposal had gone through committee and been voted on. Hansen replied that it had been discussed in committee, but was tabled. Carol Calabrese (R-Libertyville) said the proposal should go back to committee.

Several members commented that the county executive proposal was a raw power grab by Bob Neal (R-Wadsworth), who is chairman of the group which initiated the proposal. But Chairman Jim Fields (R-Antioch) warned members that he would not allow the discussion to get personal. Neal was in Washington representing the county at a White House Conference on urban counties.

Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) said she did not see how the amendment had anything to do with the legislative program. "It is not germane and should be ruled out of order," she said.

In the end, Hansen withdrew the amendment. But board members seemed ready to bring the proposal back up as a separate item at next month's regular meeting. What form the proposal will take depends on whether or not the county executive question passes.

Water referendum, number of figures

by DAN BECKER

Amidst the multiple referendum questions and county governmental nominations on the forefront of voters' minds this week, there is one issue of which the proponents have flooded the Lakeland area with information, the Lake Michigan water acquisition.

Residents from Gurnee, Grayslake, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Park, Round Lake Heights, Vernon Hills, and Wildwood will decide on Super Tuesday how to have the acquisition program financed. Residents will receive Lake Michigan water regardless of the vote tally.

The $70 million project of transporting Lake Michigan water to the outlying suburbs will be completed in 1991.

The Lake Michigan water referendum proposes that the project be financed through two types of bonds. A 50/50 mixture of general obligation bonds and revenue bonds would lift the entire financial burden off the alternatives and received a feasibility study report from an engineering firm in October of 1983.

In 1986 the committee staff suggested legislation which was later adopted by the Illinois General Assembly and which enabled the CLCWC to organize formally as a joint action water agency, the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency (CLCJAWA).

The CLCJAWA will control its own water destiny since the project includes the construction of a new water treatment plant. Since control of water source and water rates has always been a primary goal, CLCJAWA will be the only one of the regional agencies to achieve this independence.

An average residence in Lake County has a market value of about $75,000. On this basis, the real estate tax applicable to this project would be about $100 per year.

The $1.18/1,000 gallon amounts to about $106 per year. Thus, a customer will pay about $204 total.

shoulders of water users. The payment of the revenue bonds will increase the water bills residents receive, while the general obligation bonds will increase property taxes. The general obligation bonds will also affect the property taxes of owners with large parcels of undeveloped land.

An estimated uniform tax rate of 36 cents per $100 assessed valuation would be levied in 1989 and collected in 1990.

The Central Lake County Water Committee (CLCWC) was formed in late 1981 and consisted of the villages of Gurnee, Grayslake, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, Mundelein, and the Lake County Public Works Dept., which serves the unincorporated communities. The committee authorized an engineering evaluation of water supply

New kind of 'executive'

Our picks for Tuesday

COUNTY EXECUTIVE: Vote no. Out of the confusion of a clumsily worded referendum proposition on adopting a new form of county government for Lake County has emerged a bald-faced grab for power by County Republican Chairman Robert Neal and his minions. Independent Republicans and serious-minded citizens are opposed to the abject Neal plan. We are proud to join with them in urging its defeat.

WATER FINANCING: Support of 50/50 finance program recommended for bringing Lake Michigan water in inland communities belonging to Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency. We believe agency leaders are right in recommending combination of general obligation bond financing and issuance of revenue bonds which will result in lower bond interest charges.

DIST. 4 COUNTY BOARD: Northwest Lake County desperately needs an infusion of new vigor and fresh, independent thinking in its representation of the County Board. For that reason, independent Republicans Larry Leafblad and Suzi Schmidt are recommended. Leafblad and Schmidt have shown a keen grasp of local problems, particularly in questions relating to growth and development where environmental concerns and building and zoning ordinance enforcement are vital. These are issues on which the incumbents have been weakest. Most important, Leafblad and Schmidt have promised to bring about solutions. There is no Democratic contest.

DIST. 6 COUNTY BOARD: Incumbent Rep. Jerry Beyer is recommended for re-nomination on the Republican ticket on the basis of his experience and his knowledge of problems of southwest Lake County. While we don't always agree with Beyer, we feel comfortable that he can represent the diverse interests and needs of Dist. 6. Incumbent Rep. Rich Anderson has been disappointing and erratic, letting himself get distracted by Lake Zurich village politics. The other two contestants for GOP nominations, Bobbie O'Reilly and Wayne Miller, are not widely known, although both have presented creditable credentials. The Democrats do not have a contest.

Sheriff going 'high tech'

In 1987, the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. responded to 67,316 calls for service. That's an eye-popping daily average of 184 for the county's biggest and most expensive department of 323 persons. Sheriff's dispatchers answered 174,953 telephone calls last year, an average of 479 per day. The office collected $1,292,623.50 in revenue from various sources and recovered stolen property and narcotics valued at $858,453.

These are only a few statistics gleaned from the sheriff's annual report, just released. Even though Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox was incapacitated with a serious illness, his staff kept busy in a county where the population is pushing toward 500,000. When you consider that the sheriff's office is only one of several dozen law enforcement agencies in Lake County, you get an idea how big a business law enforcement is in this locality.

One of the most impressive parts of the annual report is that Lake County's long-awaited new jail will be completed and put into use this year. The new facility will have nearly double the capacity of the old jail's 128 inmates and provide state-of-the-art facilities and services. The jail is used by every law enforcement agency in the county, so it truly will be an "all-county" facility. Lake County Jail will be a model institution, a "high tech" correctional center in every word.

Crime fighters to raise funds with fun night

STOPPING CRIME—Doug Rockenbach, the Chevrolet man, is rounding up a group of friends and business associates to help keep Lake County Crime Stoppers moving ahead.

Rockenbach is in charge of the guest list for a cocktail and hors d'oeuvres reception from 7 to 11 p.m. Thursday, March 24, at the Country Squire, where celebrity sports figures will be welcoming all comers who may donate $25 to the crime fighting organization. Tickets can be obtained by calling (312) 662-2222, mailing a check to Crime Stoppers at P.O. Box 8684, Waukegan, 60079, or purchasing them at the door.

Lake County Crime Stoppers, not to be confused with Crime Stoppers organizations in McHenry and Cook Counties, has recovered more than $3 million in stolen property and confiscated narcotics. The unique thing about Crime Stoppers is that you can call in tips collect and anonymously.

FAST PACE—Munson Marine is setting a fast pace for other boat dealers in the area by donating the grand prize for the Midwest Boat Show running through Sunday, March 13, at O'Hare Expo Center. The big prize is a 16-foot Sea Ray Seville with a 100 hp outboard and a trailer. Total value of the package is $12,000. Some prize! Ahlstrand Marine of Mundelein and First Waukegan Corp. are other county businesses donating prizes for the show in Rosemont.

YOU CAN HELP—Art lovers and persons interested in decorating their homes can help themselves and others by attending a benefit auction for A Safe Place/Lake County Crisis Center. The event Friday, March 18, at Northern Chalet in Libertyville, is being sponsored by the Lake County Life Underwriters Assn. Wine and cheese will be served at a preview at 7 p.m. The auction will begin at 8 p.m. Proceeds of the auction are going for a good cause.

ON A LIMB—If the county executive proposition goes down to defeat in the primary election Tuesday, March 15, a group of civic leaders undoubtedly will have second thoughts about taking advice in the future from County Republican Chairman Robert "Bob" Neal who talked them into making big contributions for the so-called citizens committee pushing the issue.

Members of a designated "Over $1,000 Club" included Tom Rosenquist of Lake County Grading, Jack Martin of Libertyville Saddle Shop, Ralph Swank of Swank Insurance, Sal DiMucci of DiMucci Insurance & Realty, Caesar Fontana of Jobs Printing & Mailing, Bill Clay of Lake County Press, and Vic Laska of North Shore Sign Co.

Rosenquist already has felt the sting of opponents of county executive on the County Board who took him to task for alleged conflict of interest charges with one of Neal's County Board committees.

It's been heavy duty politicking on the executive proposition in the waning days of the campaign.

Letters To The Editor

Putting county in limbo

Editor:

The decision was made last fall by Robert Neal that Lake County could no longer get along without a county executive (namely himself). Consider the timing of this move. Since a bill has been introduced into the state legislature so that the initial candidates would be required to be selected through the primary election the proponent obviously decided now was the time to try to get this overly powerful position before the legislature has a chance to act.

If we pass the March 15 referendum, it most certainly will be subject to court challenge as the Illinois County Executive Act is full of contradictions and confusing language that must be clarified. Since, if passed, Lake would be the first Illinois county to adopt it, the entire county government would be in limbo until the legal questions were settled.

Mr. Neal says that the national and state governments have an executive, so why not the county? Well, as the county executive law now stands, he would preside over all County Board meetings and cast the deciding vote in case of a tie. Then, as executive, he could veto any measure that had passed if it was not to his liking.

The President is our national executive, but he does not preside over the Congress; neither does the governor preside over the state legislature. This is the way that Chicago mayors have grabbed power over the years and a replica of Chicago is what we'd become!

If the idea of a county executive sounds good to you, at least insist that the state legislature correct the flaws that exist, before we pass it here. We have twice voted against home rule in this county, yet Article VII, Section 6 of the Illinois Constitution says a county executive government is also a home rule county. At the very least, many facets of home rule are also facets of county executive rule.

'Talk Back' rebound

Editor:

On a radio program called "Talk Back," broadcast on WKRS, Jim Fields was asked to rate Robert Streicher and the Dept. of Building and Zoning. The caller gave a scale of one to 10, with 10 being high. Jim Fields gave Robert Streicher and the Dept. of Building and Zoning a 10, with a rating of excellent.

Well, Jim, ever hear of a group called Citizens for Better Building and Zoning? They are a grassroots movement of Lake County residents who are totally fed up with Streicher. I bet they wouldn't give Streicher a rating of one and a half.

Also, for your information, Jim, they have in their group representatives from nine townships in Lake County. Included are Lake Villa and Antioch Twps. Doesn't sound like they agree with you, Jim.

'Executive' courting chaos

Editor:

The League of Women Voters of Lake County urges Lake County voters to vote "no" on the March 15 referendum asking: "Shall the County of Lake adopt the County Executive form of government and elect not to become a Home Rule Unit?"

The League wishes to assure voters that regardless of how they vote on the referendum, Lake County will remain a non-Home Rule unit.

While the League believes that the organization of the Lake County Board could be improved, passage of the referendum could move Lake County government "out of the frying pan into the fire."

The League believes there are several major flaws in the current Illinois County Executive Act. Most seriously, the Illinois Act gives the county executive an extraordinary combination of administrative and legislative powers. One of the frequently cited advantages of a county executive form of government is that it separates the administrative and legislative functions of government, just as they are separated at state and federal levels. In other states, the county executive supervises the administration of the county, while the County Board concentrates on policy making. But the Illinois County Executive Act provides that the county executive preside over County Board meetings, cast the deciding vote when the votes of the County Board members are tied, and may call special County Board meetings. Thus, in Lake County, the county executive would become not only the administrative chief, but the legislative chief as well.

The League believes that greater efficiency in county board organization is a laudable goal, but efficiency won at the expense of the traditional democratic safeguards, like appropriate checks and balances, can quickly evolve into overbearing government.

Voters who are dissatisfied with the current organization of the Lake County Board should know that there are other options for Lake County government, including:

a) A County Board chairman could be elected at-large. Such a chairman would be the focal point for county leadership, but would not have the extensive powers of a county executive.

b) Our state legislators could remedy the serious flaws in the County Executive Act, after which Lake County could elect a County Executive without fear that he or she would have extraordinary powers.

A "no" vote on the March 15 referendum will not be the voters' last word on reform in Lake County government, but it should be their first.

'Brain dead' variables

Editor:

Organ donation is based on a subtle shift, basic in the euthanasia movement, that there is a life not worthy to be lived. Let's consider some facts about brain death: the term "brain death" has given many people the false impression that patients who are called "brain dead" are in actuality dead. The facts many times belied this. For example, in 1968 the Harvard Criteria for "brain death" were announced. Since that time these criteria have been widely used to pronounce patients to be dead. Yet recent scientific research shows that there are questions about the reliability of these criteria. Dr. Sewell Osterholm and a team of researchers at Temple University created massive strokes in cats. For several hours, these animals met all the criteria for being declared "brain dead" according to the Harvard Criteria. (These include a flat EEG, a lack of response to painful stimuli, and the absence of spontaneous movement, breathing or reflex action.) The cats were then revived by injecting an oxygen-rich fluid into their brain cavities. Within 24 hours the animals were able to sit up and act normally. The criteria for declaring people "brain dead" varies from state to state and institution to institution.

Now, I have no problem with organ donation as long as the donor is dead. However, in our haste to donate organs for transplantation, are we sure the patient is really dead? Or perhaps have we used a vulnerable patient for the good of another?

Organ donation is a complex social and moral issue facing our society today. However, society exists for the care and protection of the individual. If society is to err, it must always err on the side of life; and so, medicine must follow.

Block bank insurance sales

Editor:

The Independent Insurance Agents of Illinois opposes HB 2525, which allows banks to sell insurance, for the following reasons: consumer abuse due to credit tie-ins and coercion, bank failures, regulation and solvency problems, and unfair competition.

Banks power over credit gives them great potential to unfairly influence consumers' decisions as to their insurance purchases. Consumers should not be subjected to this type of coercion.

In addition, in the first half of 1987, 97 banks failed in the United States. This rate exceeds 1986's in which 138 banks failed, the most since the Great Depression. Combining the risky business of banking with the risky business of underwriting insurance leaves bank depositors, insurance policyholders and the public at even greater risk.

Moreover, problems spring up with regulation and solvency. The insurance industry is regulated by the state, while banks are subject to dual federal and state regulation. Bank regulators have neither the expertise nor the experience to regulate insurers, nor should insurance departments regulate banks.

In case of insolvency, bank depositors are protected by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, while insurance policyholders are protected by state insurance guaranty funds. If bank-insurance combination fails, which fund picks up the tab, and which group of consumers is left out in the cold.

On the issue of unfair competition banks' funds are secured by FDIC insurance and they have access to the Federal Reserve discount window for low-cost money. None of these advantages are available to insurance or insurance agents.

The banking industry must be kept separate from the insurance industry if consumers are to be protected.

Stop polluters cold

Editor:

In the last century we humans have made amazing advances in technology. These advances have made great improvements in the quality of our lives. But they have also brought some great problems. One of these problems is water pollution brought about by illegal dumping of toxins into our lakes and waterways.

Illinois is especially in trouble. In January we concluded a study on illegal dumping in Illinois. Our findings are frightening. We looked at just one third of major dischargers in Illinois. Ninety percent were in violation of permit limits with a total of 926 self-reported violations. We estimate that all major dischargers were responsible for almost 3,000 illegal discharges from October, 1984 to October, 1986. Over half of the violations were substantial (50 percent or more over the limit), with one instance of a discharge 159,250 percent over the permit limit. The toxins being dumped can interfere with basic developmental processes, causing birth defects, neurological problems, and death.

We can feel overwhelmed by such statistics. It can feel like the water pollution problems in our state is so great we will never overcome it. But we must overcome it before it overcomes us. And we can do it. We at Illinois State Public Interest Research Group (ISPARG) are doing quite a bit about it. You can help by becoming a member of our organization.

ISPARG is a non-profit, non-partisan citizens' organization. We are citizens working together to help solve a major problem of our times. To begin with, we are stopping pollution at its source by taking the major illegal dumpers in Illinois to court to get them to stop illegally dumping toxins into our water. Later in our campaign, we are introducing a bill to the state legislature that calls for strict reductions in pollution discharges, higher fines for illegal water polluters, criminal penalties for repeat violators, and guarantees of safe drinking water.

These actions will hold illegal dumpers responsible to find legal, safe ways to deal with toxic waste. We encourage them to continue in the spirit of our age by working to discover new technologies that will eliminate toxic waste.

We encourage all citizens to help in this necessary work by joining and supporting our organization. We will be in your area soon on a door-to-door canvass. At that time, we will listen to your concerns about water, tell you more about what ISPARG is doing about it, and sign up citizens as members. By working together, we can stop the pollution that is poisoning our water! We look forward to talking with you!

Rep. Matijevich speaks out against county executive vote

State Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) said, "just vote no" on the county executive issue when he addressed a recent luncheon meeting of the Exchange Club of Waukegan.

"It's another layer of government and that's always more costly to taxpayers," Matijevich told club members.

Matijevich, months ago, was the first public official to voice opposition against the referendum to establish the county executive form of government.

Matijevich said there are constitutional, substantive, and procedural flaws with the county executive issue, and the vote on March 15 is premature until the defects can be corrected. "Mainly, though, I oppose the issue because it places too much power in one person, thereby eroding representative government in Lake County," he said.

The problem that occurred when the county board went to a stalemate in electing the chairman can be cured without taking the drastic step of going to the executive form of government, according to Matijevich. He said that the even number of board members, which caused the deadlock, can be changed to an uneven number after the next census when the board is mandated to reapportion itself.

"This is one of the most important issues to ever face of Lake County," Matijevich said.

OFF THE WALL

Volunteers tabbed for re-registration

Volunteer registrars will be manning designated polls throughout Lake County to help voters get "re-registered" on election day, Tuesday, March 15, according to County Clerk Linda Hess.

"Eventually all Lake County voters will have to transfer their voter registration cards to the new uniform card," said Hess, so that every voter in the State of Illinois will be on the same uniform cards."

In an effort to do this conveniently and with little expense, Lake County is offering this service on election day at the polling places. "This is a continuation of the pilot program tried in several polling places in the November, 1987 election, and it was terrifically successful," she noted.

As in November, a number of Lake County civic organizations will be at specific polling places to "re-register" voters. If your polling place is one of those set up to take re-registration, check your voter identification card to see if it's a blue one. If it's not, you were registered under the old system, and you should stop by one these tables to get your records updated. It should take just a few minutes, and you will receive a new blue voter identification card shortly after the election.

"We want to stress that this "updating" of your records is entirely voluntary. And it can only be done for people who vote on election day. If you are ineligible to vote because you moved or had a name change, you may not re-register at this time," explained Hess.

Hess thanked the following groups who will have volunteer registrars at the polls:

The League of Women Voters of Barrington, Deerfield, Highland Park, Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, Libertyville/Mundelein and Waukegan/Zion.

The township offices of Avon, Deerfield, Fremont, Lake Villa, Libertyville, Wauconda and West Deerfield.

The City of Waukegan and the Villages of Antioch, Lake Barrington, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach and Wauconda.

And the following civic groups, Antioch Township Republican Club, Grant Township Republican Club, Libertyville Township Republican Club, Eagle Form, First Baptist Church-North Chicago, Keonig & Strey, Lake County Board of Realtors, NAACP and the United Steel Workers.

The following are Lakeland Newspaper are polling places where registrars will be on duty:

Antioch Township: Antioch Upper Grade School, Precincts 1, 2, 3 and 12.

Avon Township: Magee Middle School, Precincts 27 and 28; and Beach Elementary School, Precincts 21 and 22.

Cuba Township: Lake Barrington Shores Community Center, Precincts 50 and 392.

Ela Township: Seth Paine School, Precincts 96, 97 and 393.

Fremont Township: Countryside Fire Station, Precincts 124 and 125.

Lake Villa: Gavin School, Precincts 139 and 140.

Shields Township: Greenbay School, Precincts 188, 194 and 390.

Wauconda Township: Wauconda Community Hall, Precincts 263, 266 and 268; Wauconda Grade School, Precincts 271, 272 and 273; and Island Lake Municipal Center, Precincts 264 and 265.

Waukegan Township: Greenwood School, Precincts 283, 284 and 285; and North School, Precincts 342 and 344.

West Deerfield Township: Cherokee School, Precincts 351 and 352; and Riverside Developmental Service Bldg., Precincts 365 and 366.

Advertise your vote election day

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess says that voters who go to the polls at the March 15 election will have some special fun.

"We're kicking off a fun campaign to recognize and reward voters who take the time to vote by giving them a sticker to wear that says, 'I Voted Today,'" Hess stated. Election judges in the county's 393 precincts will be given a supply of the round red and white stickers to give to each voter.

"While we doubt voters will be encouraged to go to the polls just to receive a sticker," explained Hess, "we do think those who do take the time to exercise the right should be patted on the back. We hope we see a tremendous number of voters wearing the sticker and that they display their badge proudly."

March 12-16 food drive will replenish pantries

The need for food in Lake County is hard to believe, especially when one looks at all the food available in the supermarket. Yet such a need in Lake County is very real; people of all ages and from all areas of the county are in need of a helping hand.

"Many groups collect food for the needy during the holidays, when their thoughts are centered on giving and sharing," said Barbara Dahl, president of the Lake County Food Resource Council, "yet the need for food goes on all the time, not just at the holidays." She cited an agency survey showing that over 20,300 people in Lake County received more than 287,000 meals from county food pantries and emergency sources in 1987.

In addition, the three county soup kitchens served an estimated 46,000 meals and over 2,500 holiday food baskets were distributed in 1987.

In order to help county food pantries and soup kitchens replenish supplies depleted over the winter, the Lake County Food Resource Council, WKRS and the Cooperative Extension Service are sponsoring an all-county food drive

March 12 through 18. Lake County Board Chairman Jim Fields has declared this "Hunger Awareness Week."

County residents are asked to bring food donations to their local fire stations (except in Lake Bluff and Lake Villa, where they should be taken to the township hall, and Newport Twp., where the Warren-Newport Library is the collection site).

Those wishing to donate funds should make checks payable to the Lake County Food Resource Council.

New commuter plan near pivot point

A meeting Wednesday, March 23, will be a pivotal point in long range plans to establish commuter service on the Wisconsin Central Line (formerly Soo Line).

Transit officials have established that commuter service beginning at Mundelein and running south through Vernon Hills, Wheeling and Prospect Heights is practical.

At the same time, they have decided that service to northern communities on the line including Grayslake, Lake Villa and Antioch is impractical.

According to the latest Metra staff study, the northern link would only attract 82 new riders while the Mundelein south link was expected to have 2,787 daily boardings by 1990. Metra is one of the public transit agencies.

The ridership "diversion factor" definitely is ruling out the Grayslake-Lake Villa-Antioch segment, a spokesperson stated.

The March 23 meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at Buffalo Grove Village Hall, bringing together the Wisconsin Central corridor committee, NORTAN and Metra, agencies involved in planning on the new commuter service proposal.

Stanley Bristol, a resident of Northfield and a NORTAN representative, told Lakeland Newspapers that "March 23 will be 'it' for the Wisconsin Central proposal. If nothing is done at this meeting, it's possible the idea will be shelved."

Importance of involvement of local communities will be stressed at the Buffalo Grove meeting. The benefitting villages will be asked to come up with a portion of the estimated $50 million to get the new line started.

The Wisconsin Central (Soo Line) would link up with the Northwestern line near DesPlaines to provide service to Chicago.

Bradner will address LCCAP

The Lake County Community Action Project's (LCCAP) 23rd Annual Dinner Meeting will be held at the Midlane Country Club Wednesday, March 23. New officers will be seated preceding the dinner.

The guest speaker will be Jeanne H. Bradner, director, Governor's Office of Voluntary Action (GOVA) since 1984. Bradner is responsible for promoting public and volunteer involvement in meeting the standards of Illinois citizens.

She is currently a board member of Operation ABLE; Director, New Trier Citizen's League; and chairperson of the Winnetka Museum Committee. She also served as state chairman for Hands Across America.

This anniversary celebration is dedicated to the many boards of organizations and agencies that interact throughout the year with LCCAP's many programs. The theme of this year's event is "In Boards We Trust."

Carmel's Harbinger rates high

The National Council of Teachers of English has announced that Carmel High School's literary magazine, Harbinger, received superior rating in the 1987 Program to Recognize Excellence in Student Literary Magazines. The program drew entries from 1,326 schools in the United States, Canada and American schools abroad.

Student editors of the 1987 Harbinger were Nada Kojic, Grayslake, and Peter Schommer, Wauconda. Mrs. Lynne Strutzel was the faculty advisor.

This program is intended as a means of recognition for students, teachers and schools producing excellent literary magazines, and as encouragement for all schools to develop literary magazines.

Illinois Freeze Voters plans to send an organizer to the 12th Dist. to assist Leonardi's campaign. The organizer will concentrate on recruiting volunteers for the campaign.

"Of the two candidates running on March 15 for the 12th Congressional seat—make no mistake about it—one would move to end the nuclear arms race if elected, and that's John Leonardi," stated Mike Kelly.

research for Merck Sharp and Dohme in Pennsylvania. Paulin holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in sociology from Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pa. and resides in Libertyville.

Abbott Labs celebrates its 100th year

Editor's note:

This is the first in a series of articles saluting Abbott Laboratories.

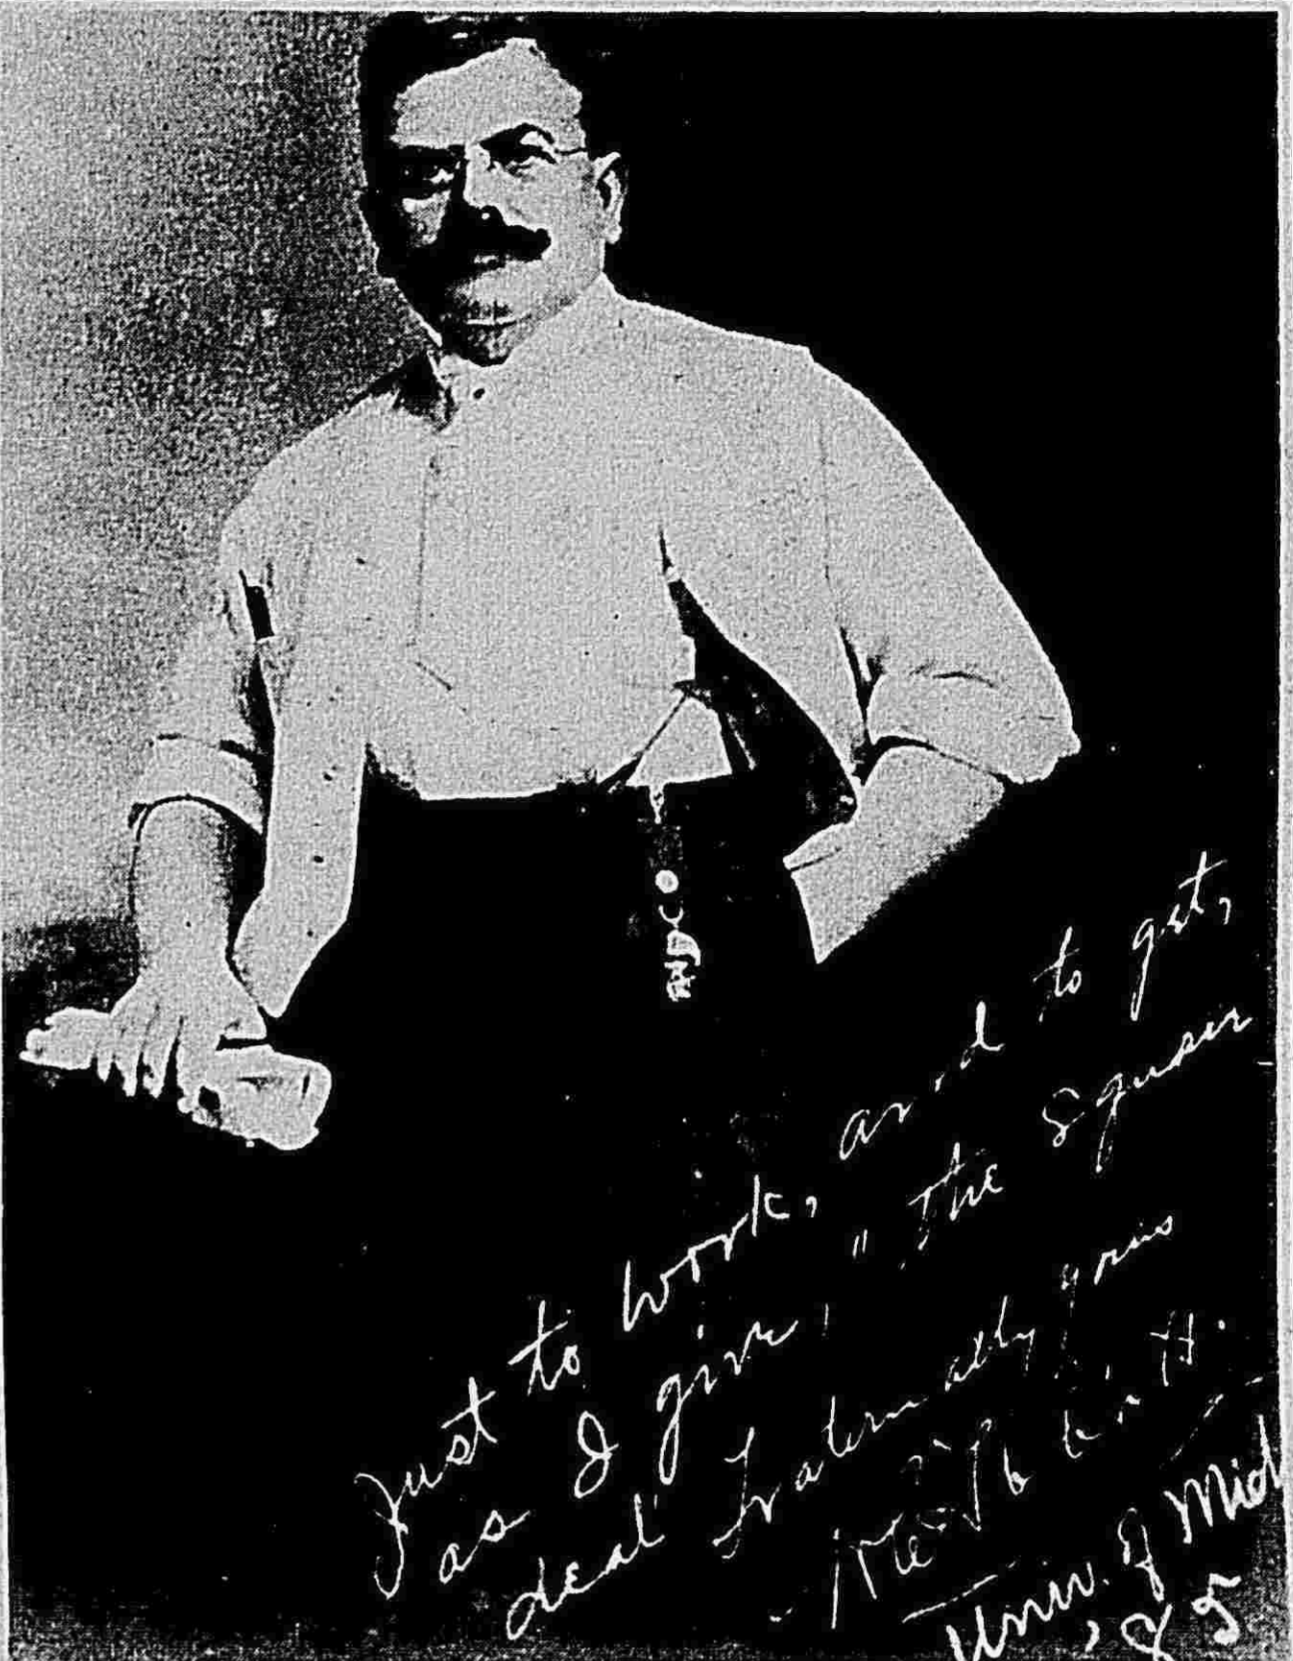

From its simple beginning as a U.S. pharmaceutical business with first-year sales of $2,000, Abbott Laboratories has grown into what it is today, celebrating its 100th anniversary as a $4.4 billion manufacturer of a diverse line of health care products marketed globally.

The business began in what is now the Ravenswood area of Chicago in 1888 as an outgrowth of Dr. Wallace C. Abbott's frustration with the medications of his day. They were crude plant extracts and had numerous side effects, were only effective in large doses and lacked stability. Abbott borrowed an idea to use only the active ingredient of plants from a Belgian-born surgeon and improved upon it, manufacturing his own granule preparation. The granules were a superior product and demand was great.

"The centerpiece of Abbott's strategy remains the commitment to research and development of quality products that will improve people's health while helping to control the cost of care," said Robert A. Schoellhorn, chairman and chief executive officer.

While Abbott's commitment to quality products has remained constant, today the company bears little resemblance to the one founded a hundred years ago. By diversifying into other high-technology areas of health care and by building its business outside the U.S., Abbott is well-prepared to meet the health care challenges of the future.

The first major departure from the original business came during the early part of the 20th century, when,

at the urging of Abbott physician and scientist, Dr. Alfred Burdick, the company entered the emerging field of synthetic medicinals. It was during this time that the company made a formal commitment to research, convinced that its future would rest upon sound scientific work. Burdick's vision and commitment to research set the stage for the development of several innovative compounds, among them Pentothal, in 1936, and erythromycin, in 1952. Pentothal, developed by Drs. Ernest Volwiler and Donalee Tabern, today is still the most widely used induction anesthetic, and erythromycin continues to be one of the safest and most effective antibiotics in use.

Manpower foresees hiring increase

Employment prospects are expected to intensify for the spring season in Waukegan and the surrounding Lake County area, according to results of the latest Employment Outlook Survey released by Manpower, Inc., the world's largest temporary help firm.

"Our survey for the second quarter of 1988 indicates that 40 percent of area employers polled plan to increase staff during April, May, and June, while 7 percent expect cutbacks and 53 percent anticipate no change in employment levels," said Chuck Bartels, owner of Manpower's Waukegan/Lake County operations.

Last spring, 30 percent of the local employers surveyed intended to hire more people and seven percent said they would reduce staff. Three months ago, 30 percent predicted increases and 13 percent foresaw reductions.

For the next three months, the national outlook is also encouraging, as 29 percent of the more than 13,000 firms polled forecast new hiring activity, while only 6 percent are expecting a decline in jobs. Here in the midwest, 30 percent plan to add personnel and 6 percent foresee cutbacks.

In the Waukegan/Lake County area, employment opportunities are predicted in the construction, durable goods manufacturing, transportation/public utilities, finance/insurance/real estate and services sectors. Non-durable goods producers and wholesale/retail trade merchants expect some new hires and some cutbacks. Other industries should remain stable.

To speak on Red China

John Killebrew, manager of the electrical and mechanical departments of the Chicago office for CRS Sirmine, Inc., will be a featured speaker at a meeting of the Lake County chapter of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers. Killebrew will relate his experiences of completing a food processing plant in the Peoples Republic of China. The meeting will take place on Thursday, March 17, with dinner beginning at 7 p.m. at the Northern Chalet in Libertyville. Reservations may be made by calling Donald Wilson, President, at 576-3592.

Killebrew is an Electrical Engineering graduate from Texas A and M who spent two months completing the H.J. Heinz Instant Children's Food Plant in Canton, China. The production facility is a joint venture between the Peoples Republic and H.J. Heinz. The food processing plant was planned, constructed and has been producing the type of children's food products having the nutritional value previously unavailable to Chinese children.

Mid America Marks 15th year

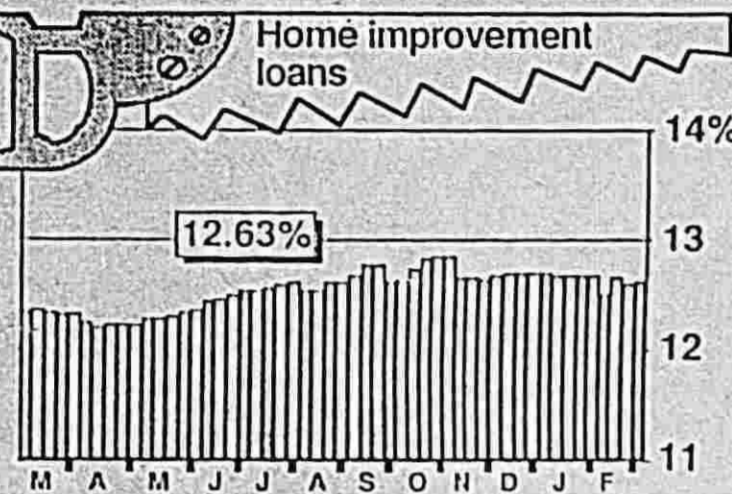

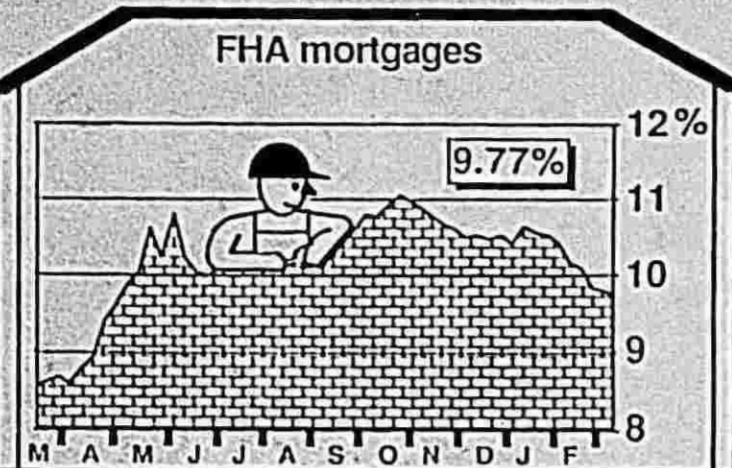

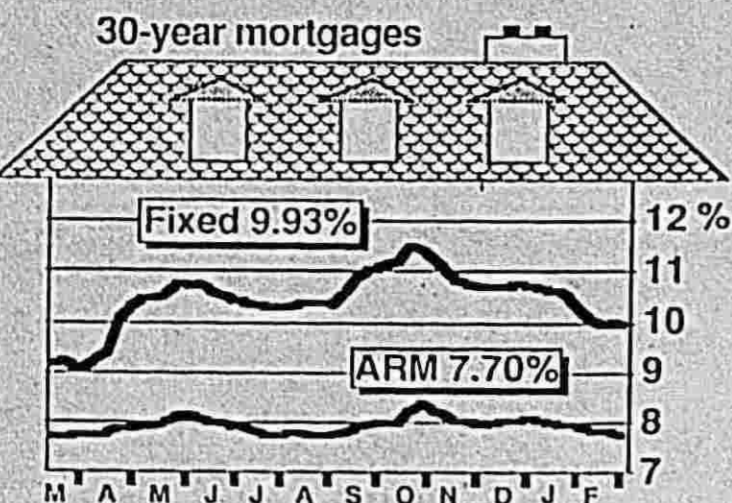

Waukegan-based Mid America Title Co. completed its 15th year of service in February, following a milestone fiscal period which was marked by significant regional expansion.

During the past 12 months, the firm opened or enlarged offices in Waukegan, Wheaton, Palos Hills, Crystal Lake, and Arlington Heights, including two new branches which were added by its Mid America Survey Co. subsidiary. The survey unit is the only such licensed operation in the area to be affiliated with a local title agency.

Mid-America's president, Ted Bond, attributes part of the company's success over the years to having its own land records, a unique distinction among title agencies based in northern Illinois.

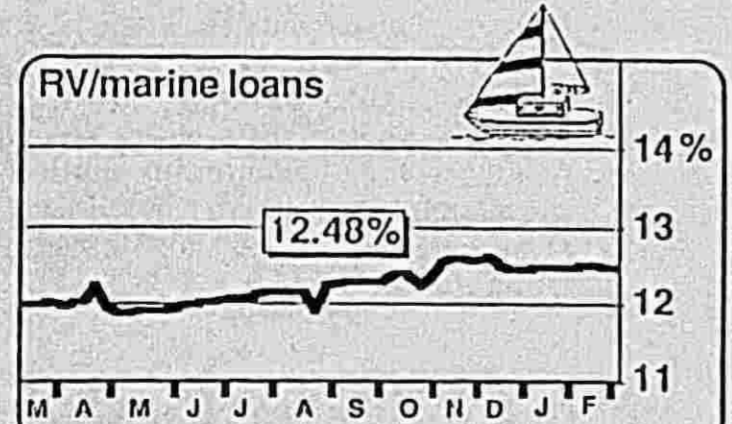

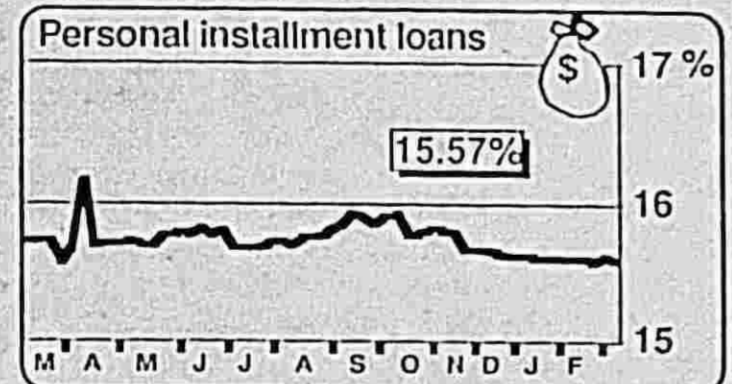

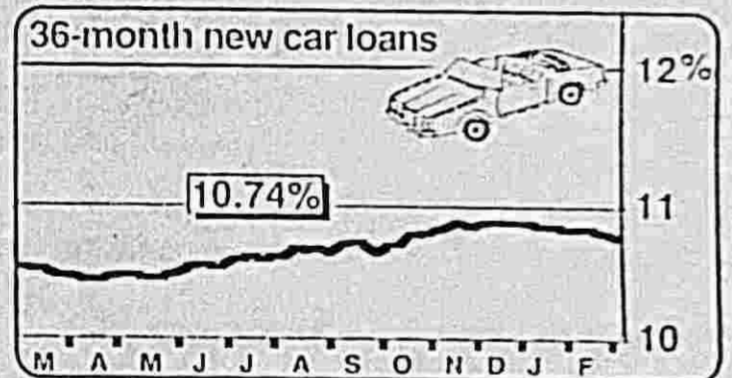

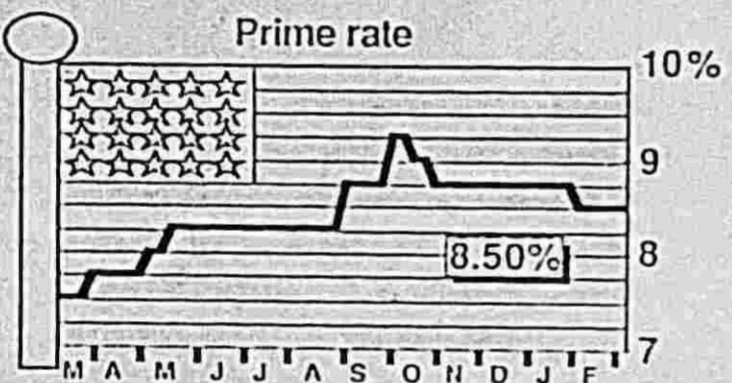

During the past decade and a half, Mid America has grown from one small office in Waukegan with a staff of six to become the Chicago area's leading title and survey organization. The firm now serves nine counties through its ten city and suburban locations.

Westfield Homes to add second phase

Westfield Homes has announced that a second phase of 48 single family homes will be added to its Westgate development in Gurnee, bringing the total number of homesites available in the community to 84. "The reason is obvious," said Roger Gatewood, president of Westfield Homes. "We've seen a tremendous reaction to the products being offered at Westgate by first-time and move-up buyers."

Since opening in January, sales at Westgate, a community of 173 single family home in north suburban Gurnee, have been strong. Gatewood said that 12 homes were sold in the grand opening week and close to 200 people visited the community in each of the first two weekends. According to Gatewood, the high volume traffic signals "a definite surge in the north suburban corridor for new construction housing from the home buying market that Westgate was developed to satisfy."

Women in Management, Inc. sponsors career help program

On Wednesday, March 16, The Lake Suburban Chapter of Women in Management, Inc., will hold its monthly luncheon at The Landings Restaurant in Libertyville. The featured program will be "Light Jazz, Mellow Rock" - making your career path a variation on a theme.

Dr. Diane Casbolt, Ph.D., will discuss ways to assess and market yourself for a new career or job to avoid the trauma often associated with this experience. She also will present how to gain this perspective from the employers point of view.

Casbolt has her Doctorate in Communication and a Master's Degree in Counseling from Ohio University in Athens, Ohio. She is currently manager of Human Resources Development at Abbott Laboratories and is on the faculty of the Lake Forest Graduate School of Management.

Cost of the program is $10 for members, $15 for non-members. Non-members are invited and encouraged to attend. For information and reservations, contact Gabrielle Scaccia at (312)367-9097 before March 11.

There Are Two Great Seasons To Buy A Heat Pump.

Summer. And winter. Both are perfect seasons to invest in a heat pump. Because a heat pump is the most energy-efficient heating and cooling system available.

During the summer cooling season, it works exactly like a central air conditioner. The only difference is that a heat pump is probably more efficient than your old unit. Because older air conditioners tend to use more electricity. And cost more to run.

In the winter heating season, it's just the opposite. A heat pump works with your furnace to heat your home, by bringing in the sun's heat from the outside air. Heat most people don't even know exists.

So a heat pump can actually generate three times as much heat as the energy it uses.

And by combining it with a furnace, you've created the most energy-efficient heating system available. Bar none.

An air conditioner that heats. Or a heater that cools. Either way you look at it, a heat pump is a smart way to keep your home comfortable, all year long.

And that's something that never goes out of season.

Abbott

The 1930s saw the beginnings of diversification as Abbott began to supply hospitals with intravenous (I.V.) solutions in disposable bottles. Today, in addition to I.V. solutions, the hospital business includes drug delivery systems, products that electronically control the infusion of I.V. solutions and medications to patients, anesthetics, products for kidney dialysis patients and critical care products.

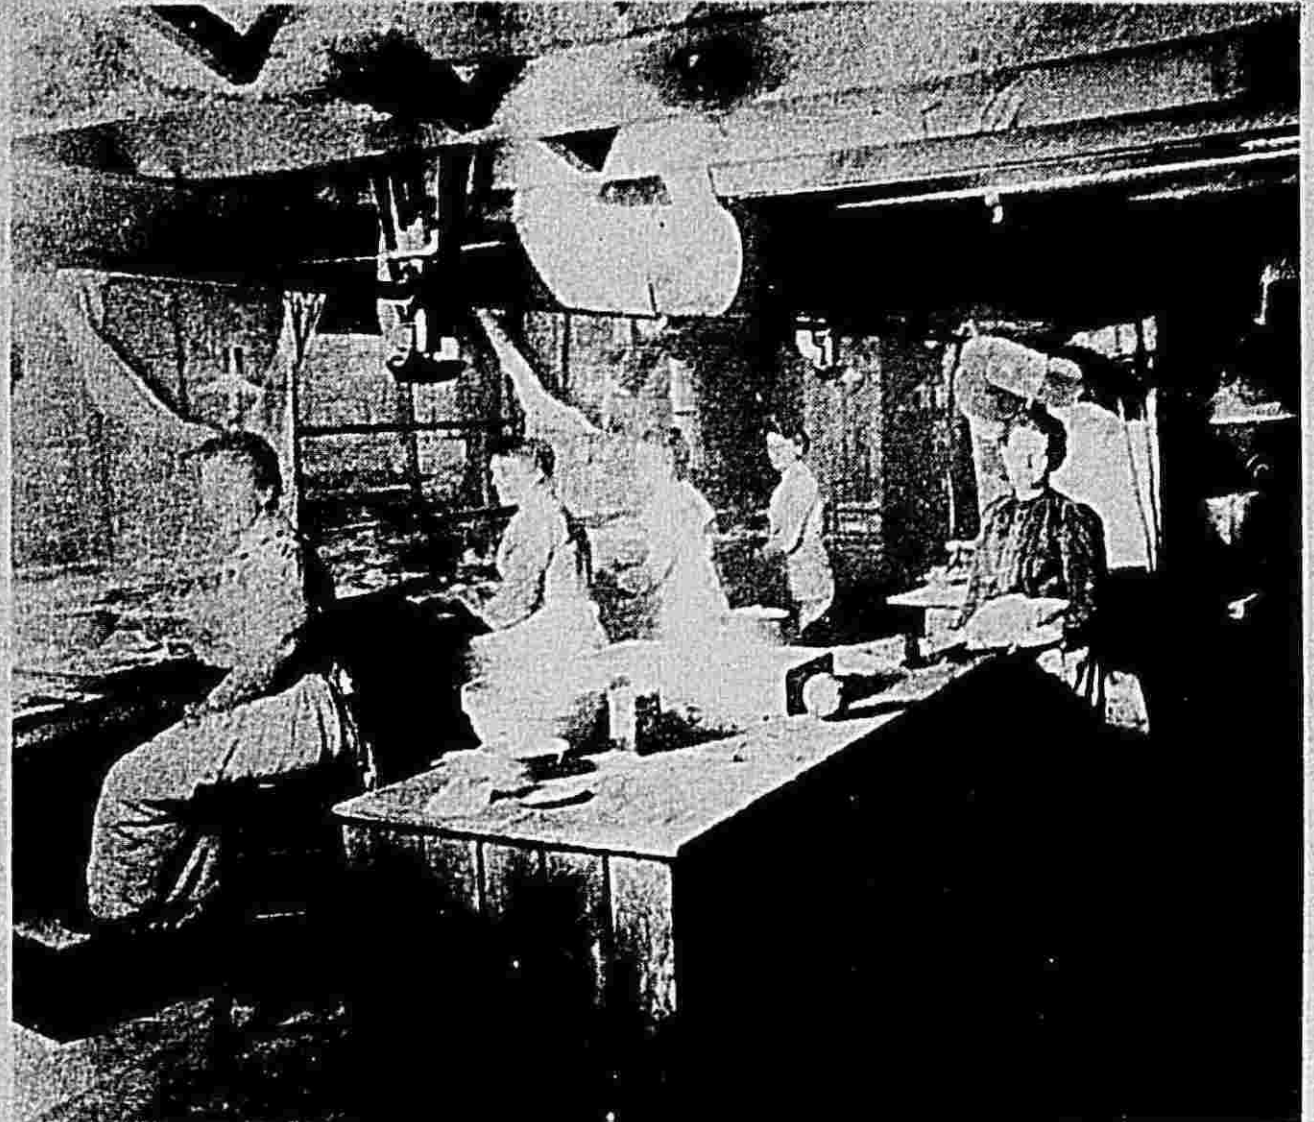

In 1946, Donalee Tabern began the study of radioisotopes, which two years later, led to the introduction of radiolabeled diagnostic products for the physician. This was the first commercial application of radiopharmaceuticals to diagnostics. Today, Abbott is the world leader in diagnostics, serving blood banks, hospital and clinical laboratories and alternative care sites with tests for hepatitis, AIDS, cancer, infectious diseases, pregnancy and other clinical conditions.

In the 1950s, Abbott acquired a farm in Illinois to conduct agricultural research. The expertise in fermentation gained from the manufacture of erythromycin and other pharmaceuticals proved invaluable in the development of biological insecticides for agricultural use. These are environmentally safe as well.

While Abbott's growth and diversification had traditionally come from internal sources, the formation of the Ross division was an exception. In 1964, Abbott merged with M and R Dietetic Labs, a leading manufacturer of pediatric products, which became the Ross division. Currently, Ross is the leader in nutritional products for infants and adults with products like Similac infant formula and nutritional products for hospital and nursing home patients. Ross also manufactures a line of pediatric pharmaceuticals and personal care products.

From Abbott's original employee base of one in 1888, the company now has a workforce of over 37,000 people in 130 countries worldwide, with wholly owned affiliates or joint ventures in every major health care market in the free world.

As Abbott enters its second century, it stands well prepared to meet the challenge to provide better health care products at an affordable cost. Research and development efforts will produce a steady flow of products in the years ahead—products that will improve the quality and cost effectiveness of health care and at the same time strengthen Abbott's leading position in its worldwide markets.

Abbott's first laboratory

Early granule production takes place in basement of Dr. Wallace Abbott's home in 1888. Abbott founded business out of frustration with quality of medications that were available for his patients. His business grew into Abbott Laboratories which celebrates its 100th anniversary this year.

Brass to shine

Empire Brass, brass quintet labeled 'North America's finest,' will be fourth in Lake County Community Concert series playing at 8 p.m., on Saturday, March 12, in Waukegan West

Model Railroad plans open house

The Lake County Model Railroad Club will present its 16th annual Spring Open House on Saturday and Sunday, March 19 and 20, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is free.

The show will take place at 107 S. Main St., Wauconda, one and one-half blocks north of Rte. 176 and Main St. Use rear entrance.

The club was founded in January of 1972 and has been in continuous operation since. Its open houses have drawn the attention of families and model railroad enthusiasts alike since the first open house that fall.

Past open houses have seen visitors not only from Wauconda and neighboring communities, but also from all of Illinois, southern Wisconsin, northern Indiana and even St. Louis, Miss.

Visitors will see three to five trains operating simultaneously over the club's main line which is over six scale miles long. Also switching and way freight operators will be in operation.

Train movement is controlled by the dispatcher using a modified version of the Direct traffic control system, used by the Class 1 railroads.

There is a saying in model building, "it's never finished." That is certainly true of the Wauconda Central. Along with the new freight classification yard, a portion of the main line has been rerouted, an interchange yard is starting construction, and floor-to-ceiling scenery is planned. Also the contractors are busy as a whole new town is under construction.

It is difficult to estimate the amount of time and material that has been used to build the Wauconda Central, but the following is fairly accurate. There is over 3,000 feet of nickel silver rail that has been hand spiked to the individual wood ties.

Don't try counting the ties, however, there are over 75,000 of them. And don't try to pick the Wauconda Central up either, it's a trifle heavy with the nearly one and one-half tons of plaster used for scenery.

No one really knows how long it took to build this miniature empire, but latest estimates come in around 60,000 man hours.

As always the club members are happy to discuss the techniques used to build the railroad and other models. Everyone is invited to explore the Wauconda Central.

Players announce two 'Sound' auditions

Waukegan Community Players announces auditions for their fourth and final production of the season, Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music."

Auditions are scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday, March 13, and at 7 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, March 14 and 15. A short workshop session for anyone unfamiliar with the score will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday.

All parts are open, and director Pat Jamison is looking for new faces and good voices. Young people ages six through 16 are encouraged to try out.

Parts available are: Maria Rainer,

Capt. Von Trapp, the Mother Abbess, the Countess, Max Deitweiler, all the Von Trapp children, plus various nuns' parts and singing and non-singing roles.

Voice ranges are from medium to medium high with four-part singing necessary for the nuns.

Come on out and out-sing Julie Andrews. Auditions are at the Rosenwald Cottage, Waukegan, and production dates are mid-June. Presentation will be seen at the Melba Wixom Auditorium two weekends, with a matinee on Sunday.

For further information, call Jamison at (312) 746-2213.

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

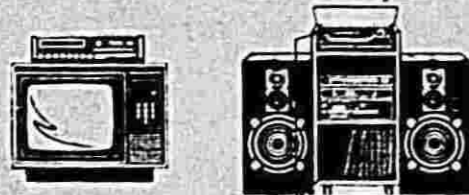

I'm pleased to be one of the first sources to inform you about The Elements. This Novus recording act comprises former Pat Metheny Group rhythm players Mark Egan and Danny Gottlieb. In jazz circles, these two are known as the quintessential New York musicians, not only for their studio expertise and past releases, but for their weekly stints as Gil Evans' chosen back-up players at Manhattan's Sweet Basil's. The self-produced illumination is their first release, a unique merging of jazz, rock and funk featuring the sounds and artistry of Bill Evans (former horn player for Miles Davis), Clifford Carter (session keyboard player), and Steve Khan (former Weather Report guitarist and current regular of the Paul Schaffer Band on David Letterman's Late Night).

Es Paranza Records and Atlantic Records have announced the release of "Heaven Knows", the new single from Robert Plant's forthcoming studio album, Now And Zen. "Heaven Knows" was written by Phil Johnstone and Phil Barrett and produced by Tim Palmer, Robert Plant and Johnstone, featuring a guest appearance by Jimmy Page. The single's flip side is a tune called "Walking Through Paradise," a track which will only appear on the compact disc version of the album.

Rumor has it that Plant has agreed to do a Zeppelin reunion tour with the only questions being when and where. Stay tuned.

Currently bulleting to the top of the U.S. Pop Charts, INXS' Kick is rapidly heading toward the double-platinum mark. A recently released single, "Devil Inside," is receiving a lot of airplay — and for good reason. ©1988, McNaught Synd.

Stardancer cruise ship is among world's finest

She is tall, handsome, broad of beam—totally luxurious, and a very exciting place to spend sun-kissed days and starry nights.

She is a floating luxury resort with a swimming pool, health club with a fully equipped weight room and an outdoor running track. She has night clubs, a disco, elegant dining rooms and six cozy bars, including the three deck atrium piano lounge.

She is Stardancer, the 10th largest cruise ship afloat and the pride of the splendid Admiral fleet. Only five years old, she was completely refurbished last year. She is 608 feet long (more than two football fields) and nearly 90 feet wide. A crew of 380 people cater to the needs and whims of passengers on her 10 passenger decks.

Despite her 27,000 tons of weight, she is also fast, with the capability of smoothly cutting through the blue waters of the Pacific at 21 knots (24 mph).

The delights begin for Lakeland cruisers with the cabins, where there is plenty of room to unpack, unwind and stretch out. Every cabin has a radio, tv, telephone and private bath with a shower. Some have picture windows for views of spectacular sunsets or tropical sunrises.

Lakelanders will find a basket of fruit in the room—and mints on the pillow at night.

The choices begin when you awake at sea, rested and hungry for breakfast. You can start each day with croissants, juice and pot of coffee in your stateroom. Or breakfast in the spectacular Windows of the World Dining Room on omelette, panacakes, smoked salmon and pastries from the ship's oven. Or walk up on deck and breathe in the fresh salt air along with a breakfast of eggs, bacon, fresh melon and sweet rolls.

After breakfast, deciding what to do next really gets tough. The choices are simply too numerous on the floating playground which is the Stardancer.

You can spend an invigorating half hour or so on the outdoor track and firm up those muscles at the parcourse stations. Loosen up with a sauna, or whirlpool bath or a massage—or all three.

Or shop in the duty-free boutique and gift shop, take a stroll around the deck, or prepare for a night of dancing in the beauty salon. Or sun and swim in Stardancer's outside sliding glass-domed swimming pool. Or write a letter home in the library. Or simply curl up in a deck chair with a murder mystery.

Lunch or dinner is always an adventure aboard Stardancer. There are six-course luncheons in the dining room and buffet style banquets on deck. For dinner, savor international cuisine with French, Italian and Mexican specialties. Try the medallions of veal or the succulent lobster. And don't forget the appetizers like the shrimp cocktails and the dessert masterpieces.

If you get hungry late at night, there is an eye-popping buffet, as beautiful to look at as it is to eat.

Best of all, there is no waiter to present a check for any of it. It is all included in the low, all-inclusive Lakeland price.

When tropical nights fall, thousands of ship-board lights begin to twinkle as lounges and nightclubs come alive with entertainment for every taste. Dance until the wee hours in the Stardance Disco, rekindle your romance in the Sundown Lounge—or meet a new flame.

Every evening there are singers, dancers, comics and a variety of other entertainers performing in the Showroom of the Starlight Club. You might do a little gambling in the casino, sip a margarita in the piano lounge, or take a romantic moonlit stroll on one of the ship's observation decks.

Or enjoy the masquerade parade and the Captain's party. The Stardancer's bars, lounges and nightclubs steam past the beautiful Baja Peninsula until the wee hours of the morning.

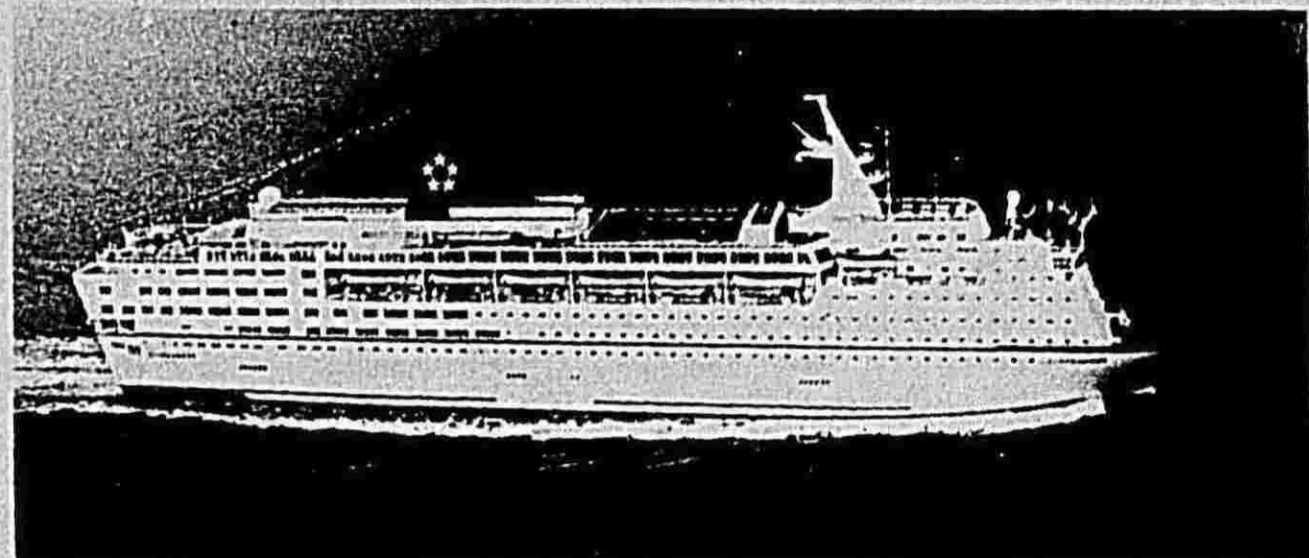

On Tuesday morning, Stardancer pulls into the port of Puerto Vallarta and passengers can disembark for a full day of shopping, sightseeing and beaching. On Wednesday, the port is Mazatlan and on Thursday she will drop anchor in Cabo San Lucas, one of the most incredible natural wonders of Mexico.

Friday is the gala last night out party, where Lakeland neighbors will celebrate new friendships made during the cruise. The people you meet on the Stardancer often become lifelong friends.

No tip needed

If you take a taxicab in Mexico, a tip is not expected. Some passengers let the driver keep the small change, but even that is strictly optional. To avoid disputes, ask what the fare will be before you enter the cab.

Sail in style

The Admiral Stardancer, one of the 10 largest cruise ships in the world, is eight decks of floating playground. Passengers on the Lakeland cruise to the Mexican Riviera can work out, shop, sun, swim, dance and dine in style aboard the sea-bound resort.

St. Louis, you should see it now

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel, Inc.

Looking for something to do for an extended weekend? There's a river town just down the road that's got a lot to offer.

If you haven't visited St. Louis for a couple of years, you're in for a surprise.

Some of you may remember the rundown river front. It's now called Laclede's Landing and boasts some real entertainment opportunities. There's a riverboat called The Admiral which has been turned into a $35 million art deco entertainment complex. For a small entrance fee you have your choice of several live shows and restaurants ranging from elegant to casual.

Of course there's the famous gateway arch denoting St. Louis as the gateway to the west. There's a tram in the arch which will take you to an observation room at the top. This "tram" is not for the claustrophobic! Frankly, I found the film about how the arch was built more interesting than the view from the top.

Speaking of arches, McDonald's also has a riverboat on which you may eat your Big Mac.

One attraction not to be missed is the Missouri Botanical Gardens. I especially liked the Japanese garden. Something about the ponds and small waterfalls which relaxes the mind. Admission is only $1.

Other attractions costing $1 or that are free include the Anheiser-Busch brewery, Grant's Farm, the St. Louis Zoo and the Cathedral of St. Louis.

The Cathedral will remind you of the great cathedrals of Europe with its many mosaics.

For you shoppers, there's Union Station. This once busy railroad station now contains many shops and restaurants. You must stop by the Fudge Shop. They put on quite a show. Sunday brunch at the Omni Hotel connected to Union Station is one of the best I've had anywhere.

Getting to St. Louis is downright cheap. Airfare is about $60 roundtrip. It's also only a five-hour train ride for about $15 less.

NICC announces arrival of walleye tourneys

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club announces the arrival of Walleye Tournaments at the Fox Chain O'Lakes for the 1988 season.

The two person team events will have a guaranteed first place payout of $1,000 per event and 80 percent payout of all entry fees. Entry fee is $100 per team. Each team must supply one boat. All angler's must be 16 years of age by Oct. 30.

The Fox Chain of Lakes is a haven for walleye broodstock and is responsible for much of the walleye eggs hatched to fry in the midwest.

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club has been very instrumental in enhancing walleye fishing on the Chain of Lakes. The NICC has supplied tags to the department of conservation for creel testing, assisting them in harvesting eggs from walleye broodstock.

A back pack shocker, scale press, conductivity meters, PH meters, and a generator were donated by the NICC to the department of conservation to assist them in monitoring the growth of walleyes in the Chain.

The tournament for the 1988 season will showcase efforts of walleye proliferation for the past 10 years.

Championship qualifying is by a one point step down basis, starting at 100 points for the first place team at each event. No bonus points for show. The top 16 teams plus the four qualifying tournament winners shall be invited to the championship at no charge.

Coca-Cola, Old Style, Ranger Boats, Evinrude, Humminbird, Bagley's Silver Thread Line and Highland Park Ford are the current sponsors for the 1988 walleye tournaments. Everyone's asked to use their products when possible as they support anglers throughout the world. NICC really appreciates them for their continued support of improving fishing in the Chain O' Lakes area.

This is a first year tournament schedule and NICC's moving at a very fast pace to insure a top notch competition circuit. Look for brochures at most Chicagoland Marina's and Tackle Shops. NICC has installed a tournament phone and calls will be accepted between 10 a.m. and 9 p.m. at (312)356-FISH or (312)356-3474.

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland

by TOM WITOM

Organized religion is always fair game for a good farce. And in "Some Things You Need to Know Before the World Ends: A Final Evening with the Illuminati," written and acted by Levi Lee and Larry Larson, the satire strikes mercilessly home.

Lee, in mismatched stocks and a red union suit, portrays Rev. Eddie and Larson is his hunchbacked aide, Brother Lawrence.

The unlikely pair command center stage at the Truman-O'Rourke Center for the Performing Arts in Chicago in a two-hour performance that includes skits, sermons and audience participation.

Set in a ramshackle sanctuary, "Illuminati" converts the audience into a congregation; when the collection plate is passed around, it gathers some unusual donations. Rev. Eddie's sermon, "Life is Like a Basketball Game," turns out to be his final oration when he and "Death" go one-on-one shooting baskets.

The skit lampooning sainthood is particularly amusing, as the young applicant fidgets and frets over the proper qualifying forms and good deeds. And some of the one-liners are funny, like when St. Paul splashes salt on his sandwich and exclaims, "Here's to you, Lot!"

On the other hand, country and western gospel tune "Jesus Was a Lutheran" and the scene in which Lee rides a bicycle with an attachment that flagellates his backside in the process were just plain dumb.

Larson is wacky with his vision of an apparition of a spirit from the other world who happens to come via space ship. One cannot help but like his performance as the dim-witted but pure at heart Brother Lawrence.

"Illuminati," presented by Cullen, Henaghan & Platt, is scheduled to run through May 1.

In 'Illuminati'

In the irreverent comedy, "Some Things You Need to Know Before the World Ends: A Final Evening With the Illuminati," are Levi Lee, left, the crackpot cleric and Larry Larson, his sidekick. The show is at the Truman O'Rourke Center For the Performing Arts, Chicago.

Chess champion to appear at county college

Grandmaster Arthur Bisguier, former United States chess champion and three time winner of the U.S. Open chess tournament, will play up to 25 opponents at once during a "simultaneous exhibition" on Wednesday, March 16, at 7 p.m. at the College of Lake County campus in Grayslake.

The event is open to the public. "Any chess player who wants to test his skill in a game against the former U.S. champion can do so on a first come, first served basis", said Tim Just, president of the Central Lake County Chess Club, which is sponsoring Grandmaster Bisguier's appearance.

The playing fee will be $5 for College of Lake County students and $10 for non-students. CLC Chess Club members will play for free, and spectators will be admitted at no charge.

Anyone interested in additional information about Grandmaster Bisguier's appearance or about the Central Lake County Chess Club, which meets Friday nights at the College of Lake County, can call Tim Just at (312)244-7954 or Dennis Grant at (312)336-5188.

Ballyhoo marathon racing

The eighth annual Lake County Marathon races will be held on Sunday, April 24, starting at 8:15 a.m. in Zion and traveling south through Lake County, finishing at the gates of Ravinia Park.

This year, to add to the festivities of these Special Olympic events, there will be entertainment along the race route and at the start and finish lines.

The committee is looking for musicians, clowns and other talented people and businesses to donate their time. They are in need of sponsors to donate a balloon arch and helium balloons for a launch at the starting line.

The Marathon is for all of Lake County, not just for the runners, so if a club, school or business would like to be involved or just come out to cheer, contact the Marathon office at 636 Ridge Rd., Highland Park, 60035 or contact Carol at (312)356-5702.

New Sons of Norway lodge to be called 'Fjordland'

Fjordland Lodge No. 606 of Norway held an Institution Day dinner in February at McHenry Moose Lodge, where the name "Fjordland" was selected by the 111 charter members who were initiated.

The impressive ceremony was attended by dignitaries from the International Headquarters in Minneapolis, and officers and directors of the Fifth District. Newly elected officers were installed by International Director Cy Wittrock, and were escorted by the Sons of Norway Drill Team from Chicago.

Members representing many other Sons of Norway lodges came from Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois, including a bus from Skjold Lodge No. 100 in Arlington Heights. Congratulatory letters and telegrams were received from as far away as Hayward, Wis.

Fjordland's Charter Banquet is scheduled for Saturday, April 23, at Hob Nob Restaurant in Crystal Lake. Charter membership will remain open until April 22.

Sons of Norway is a fraternal benefit society with over 110,000 members in nearly 400 lodges throughout not only the United States, but Canada and Norway. Anyone is welcome to join, whether Norwegian by birth, descent, affiliation, or simply an interest in Norwegian culture and history.

Classes at Fjordland will be forming for language, folk dancing, rosemary and other crafts. For further information contact Liv Schweigert in Cary, (312) 639-8692, or Izetta Castiglia in Harvard, (815) 943-6672.

LIFE'S LITTLE UPS AND DOWNS

Do your children tell you everything? If they have taken a spill, fallen off a bike, or injured themselves playing football, you may be the last to know. That's why it's important to give your children a Chiropractic Checkup regularly. Many times, untreated childhood accidents turn into spinal distortions that may not show up for months or years. Parents never really know how many little bumps, knocks, and falls their children have had. Why take a chance? Bring your children in for a Chiropractic Checkup. CALL TODAY!

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE
BY SALOME
Weekly Tip: Handle those nuts-and-bolts issues.
Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Others will appreciate a small favor or two. If you consolidate your debts, managing payment will come easily. Your leadership will work for you now.
Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) If you think all others are against you, you're wrong; however, it will take time to build the group of support you're looking for. Keep your eyes open.
Gemini (May 21-June 20) One of your ideas may not be as weird as you think. Dream about your future and develop ways to make things turn into reality. Nurture your talents.
Cancer (June 21-July 20) Anything of an "inner conflict" may be overwhelming, so be sure to talk about this with your confidants. Recreations will be good for you now.
Leo (July 21-Aug. 22) Creativity is high, so make the most of it. Look for that guidance you need in the form of an older, more mature individual. Be sympathetic to family.
Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try praising your subordinates more, since this way they will respect your authority and more things will be accomplished. Keep yourself busy.
Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Don't be surprised if total strangers have a major impact on your life. The ability to be emotionally objective will work in your favor now. Keep alert.
Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Your personal life has taken a 180-degree turn, and you now feel an overwhelming amount of freedom. Enjoy it by meeting people and traveling far.
Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Your family worries will begin to subside very soon, so begin to concentrate more on yourself. Get yourself geared up for an active Springtime!
Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be less demanding of those you care about. You must be ready to make any last-minute changes at work and play. Finances will improve shortly.
Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) If someone has caused you problems in the past, try to overlook it and extend your warmth. Pamper yourself before attending that big social event.
Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) That dark cloud hanging overhead will soon disappear, and you will begin to feel better about love and life. Don't be too unpredictable at work or home.
If you were born this week, You will be an intensely creative individual. Also, your ability to communicate effectively and easily will get you through many tough times. A selfless individual, you will be rewarded for your integrity through many unplanned, yet thrilling, travels throughout foreign lands.

Set All-Star game

The 14th annual Illinois Coaches Shrine High School All-Star game will be played at Hancock Stadium on the campus of Illinois State University on Aug. 6. Through the first years of the all-star game, more than $1000 has been raised for the Shrine Hospitals throughout the state. A committee of 21 district chairmen, led by state football chairman John R. of Alexis, met to select the 88 players for the game. The players are nominated by their respective coaches, screened by the committee. Head coaches will be Rich Zinanni of Lakeview Bishop McNamara High for the East squad and Tate Vroman of Ridge High for the West. The players will report to practice July 31 for the contest. Two North Suburban Conference coaches, Tom Myers of Forest and Dale Christensen of Artyville, were chosen as assistants for the East squad. Tickets may be ordered from: All Football, P.O. Box 1331, Wilmington, 61701. Prices are $6 for covered and $4 for general admission.

NWSC picks best

Northwest Suburban Conference basketball champion Round Lake had three players on the all-conference team and the Panthers' Richardson was named the Player-of-the-Year. Richardson, a 6-7 senior center, was named to the team along with fellow Panthers Frank Russell, a 6-0 guard, Timm Dunn, a 6-1 guard. Richardson was a force underneath for the Panthers, who won the conference with a 12-2 record. Russell and Dunn were both known as three-point shooters. Russell and Richardson were unanimous selections. All three are seniors. Grant and Grayslake, who both tied in a tie for second place at 11-3, had two players named. Pete Lupori, a 6-6 center and Timm West, a forward, were unanimous selections. West is a junior and Lupori a senior. Tony Culotta, a 6-4 senior forward, was named a unanimous selection. Ken Rasbid, a 5-9 senior guard, was also named to the team. Rich Krause, a 6-3 center from Marian Central and Chris Diedrich, a 6-1 guard from Johnsbury, were the other two unanimous picks. Chuck Cermak, a 6-0 senior guard from Wauconda, Scott Krezeminski, a forward from Lake Zurich and Angelo's Brian Hagen were all named. The NWSC has also announced its all-conference teams for winter sports seasons. Almost 150 athletes were named for basketball, wrestling, gymnastics, bowling and cheerleading teams.

Bright futures

Though Marengo slipped to a .500 record in varsity NWSC play this season, the Indians don't figure to be on the sidelines. Roger Cannon's sophomore team won another soph title with a perfect 11-0 record. Grant also figures to be strong next year, as the sophs finished in second at 11-3. Marian Central 9-5 and Round Lake 8-6. In the second division, Johnsbury was 4-10, Grayslake 4-10, Lake Zurich 3-11, Wauconda 1-13. On the frosh level, Marengo and Round Lake tied for the title with 13-1 records. Grant was the third team with a better than .500 record at 8-6 and Johnsbury was 7-7. Marian Central was 4-10, Lake Zurich 4-10 and Grayslake and Wauconda were 2-12.

Warren's tournament magic continues: Blue Devils make sectional final

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

This winter, there just seems to be something contagious about Warren's basketball teams and winning in post-season play.

After the girls basketball team won 27 games en route to the Elite Eight, Warren's boys team came into the Waukegan East Sectional game against Round Lake Tuesday with 22 wins and an eye on duplicating the girls' accomplishment.

It took an unusual commodity for the Blue Devils this year - clutch free throw shooting, to give Warren a 54-49 overtime win over Round Lake. That, plus the usual Warren commodity: solid defense. Warren held Round Lake without a field goal for the final three minutes of the fourth quarter and the entire five minute overtime session.

"We made the free throws when we had to make them," Warren Coach Darrel Bader said.

And because the Blue Devils did just that - making four-of-six in the final 25 seconds, they may plan for another game. Warren will play either Deerfield or Waukegan East for the sectional championship March 11.

For Round Lake, the loss was especially hard to swallow. The Panthers finished at 20-8 and had won the Northwest Suburban Conference and the Antioch regional.

"The kids played their hearts out," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

The Panthers were underdogs coming into the game and had to do something to overcome an internal feeling of being happy to be playing Waukegan.

"We spent three days trying to overcome the feeling of 'we're glad we're going to Waukegan. We were on a real high after winning the regional,'" Ward said.

The regional win was Round Lake's first in 16 years.

Senior Brian Richardson led Round Lake with 20 points. Forward Todd Collis had 12 and guard Timm Dunn 10.

For Warren, Matt Lingenfleser and Dave Nolan both scored 18. With Warren ahead 50-49 with 42 seconds left, the two then canned four free throws.

After Nolan made his two for a three-point lead, Lingenfleser was fouled with 25 seconds left. He missed the first free throw, but Mark Eifert got the rebound and tipped it back to Lingenfleser.

"I wanted to get fouled so I could go to the line again. On the first one, I released it a little too soon," the senior said.

This time, with :22 left, Lingenfleser hit on both shots to give the Blue Devils a five-point lead at 54-49.

The first four quarters of the game saw Round Lake rally from Warren leads.

Round Lake started cold from the field in the first quarter, missing six of nine shots and committing four turnovers. Warren, on a Derek Shelton steal and layup, took a 14-9 lead after eight minutes.

Warren increased its margin to seven points in the second quarter. A basket by Nolan gave the Blue Devils a 25-18 lead with 4:08 left.

Round Lake then called timeout and went to its 1-3-1 trap defense. That forced Warren into hurrying shots and the Panthers put together a 8-0 lead to take a 26-25 halftime lead on a Richardson baseline move.

Warren gained a six-point lead at the outset of the third quarter. A Nolan layup two minutes into the quarter gave Warren a 34-28 cushion. But again, Round Lake did not let Warren build on its lead, tying it at 36 on a Richardson hoop.

Two baskets by Lingenfleser - one on a tip-in on his missed free throw gave Warren a 38-36 lead after three.

Round Lake gained control in the final period, gaining a four-point lead.

A three-point shot by Dave Sjong seemed to get Warren going and a tip-in by Eifert with 1:53 left tied the game at 48.

Warren got the defensive board and then passed the ball 29 times before Eifert just missed on a three-pointer.

Work ethic, attitude make Skyhawks season memorable

Judging by the harsh reality of won-loss records, Johnsburg's varsity basketball team improved by just one game over its immediate predecessor.

But basketball coaches like to take into account certain elements when looking back on a season. Like attitude and work ethic.

"The kids played hard all year. The kids' effort and attitude was much better than last year. I enjoyed this year more than last year," Johnsburg Coach Jeff Lewiston said.

His Skyhawks had just played one of their better games of the year before Woodstock pulled away in the final five minutes for a 72-60 win. The loss at the Crystal Lake Central regional ended Johnsburg's season with a 9-16 record.

That means the Skyhawks will be looking at a long summer, but one in which several players will be working on their skills for next year.

Juniors Tom Oeffling and Trevor Hart scored 10 and 16 points, respectively against Woodstock. Soph guard Brandon Cajthaml will be working on his techniques in guiding the offense.

The loss to the Blue Streaks showed Johnsburg's best attributes and most glaring weaknesses. Johnsburg shocked Woodstock with an 8-0 start. The Blue Streaks pressed the slower Woodstock guards and caught up and took a four-point lead.

A free throw by Tom Valant, who finished his JHS career by scoring 20 points, and a tip-in by the senior, brought Johnsburg to within one at 43-42.

Johnsburg then controlled the tempo for the next 10 minutes. A Hart layup gave Johnsburg a four-point lead but Woodstock answered with a three-pointer. Oeffling's hoop at :50 gave Johnsburg a 51-48 lead after three.

In the fourth quarter, Johnsburg maintained a four-point cushion when Oeffling tipped in a miss. Two Hart free throws at 5:06 gave the Skyhawks a 56-55 lead.

Then "it" happened. Johnsburg missed two free throws, a shot and committed a turnover in its next three possessions.

The Blue Streaks simply exploded at that point, outscoring Johnsburg 17-4 in the final five minutes.

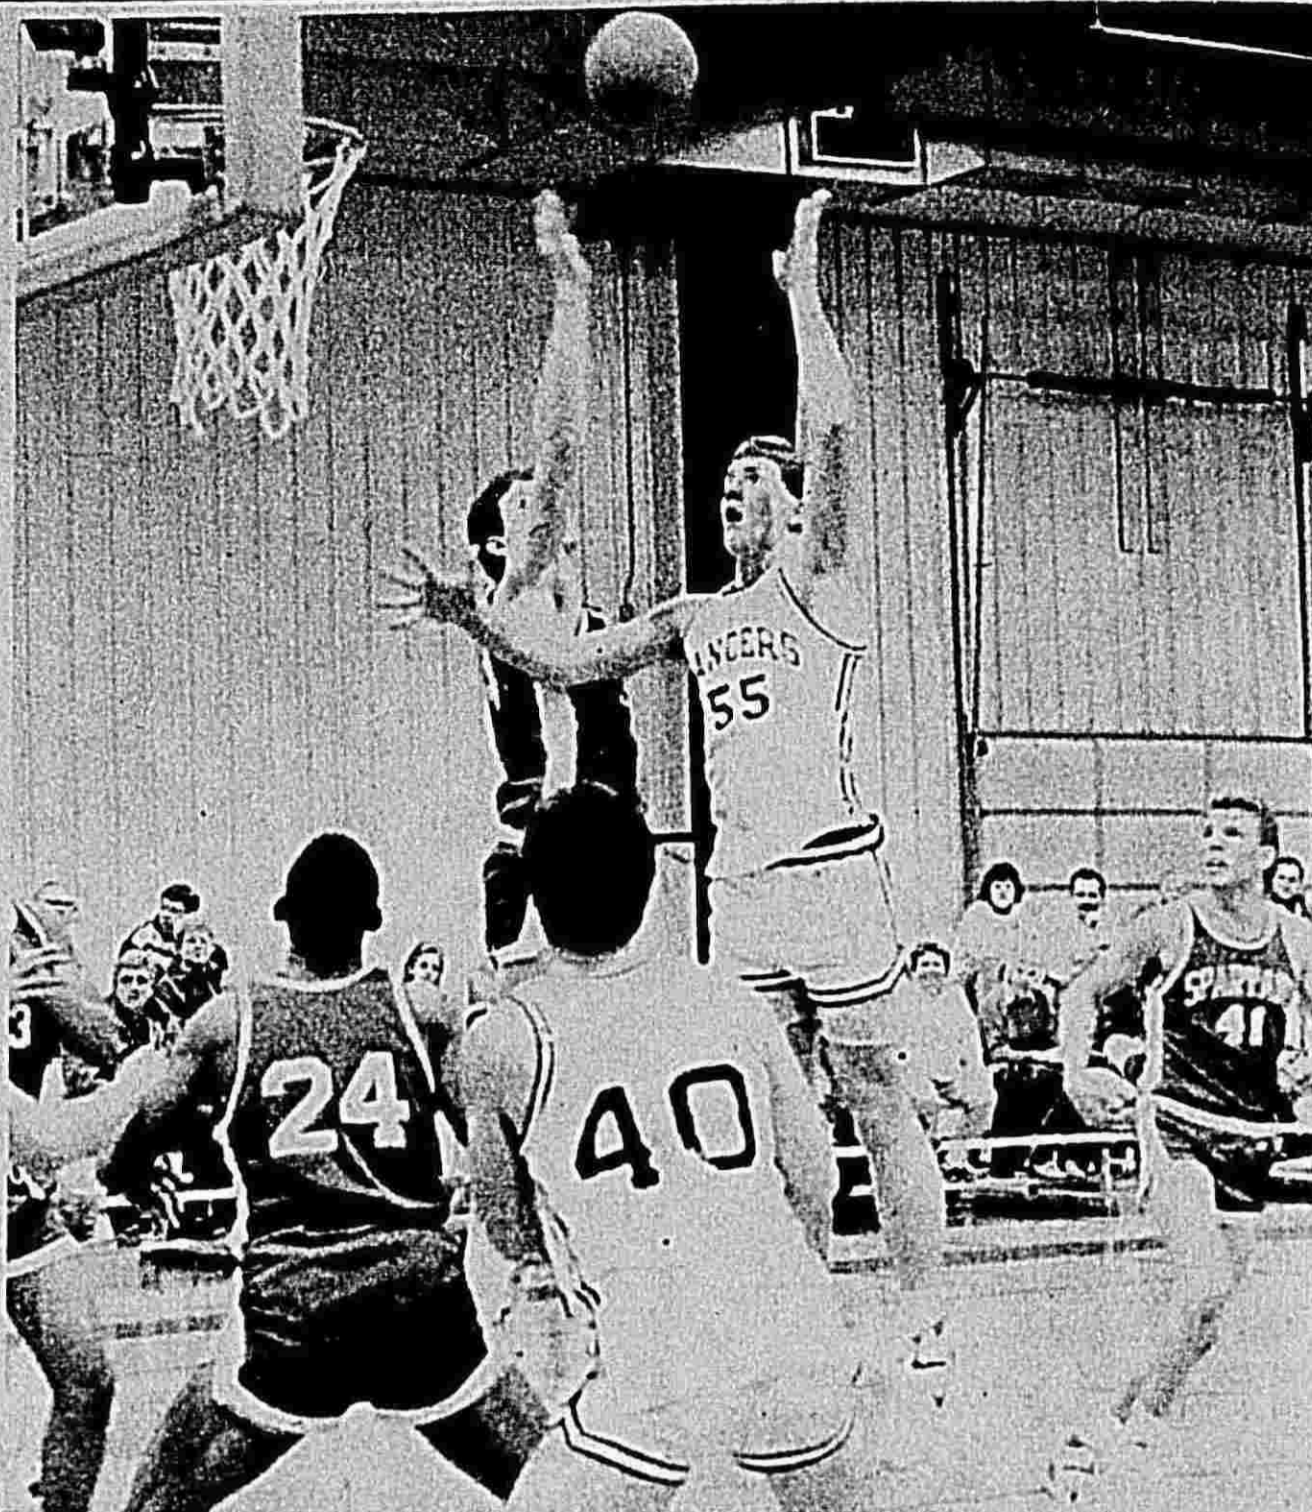

"They overplayed us a lot and executed well down the stretch," Lewiston said of Woodstock.

The Blue Streaks, who were led by 26 points from Tom Clouse, were almost perfect from the free-throw line. They made 11-of-12 in the final quarter and blistered the nets for 20-of-22 for the game.

Johnsburg followed its pregame plan to a "t" in the first minutes of the game. Two baskets by Valant and one by Hart and Ed Nichols gave the Skyhawks the 8-0 lead. That forced Woodstock Coach Gordie Tebo to call a timeout.

"We wanted to plant a seed of doubt in their minds," Lewiston said.

Woodstock called on its press to get back into the game.

Round Lake survives Bulldog regional rally

by JOHN DIDIER

When the Panthers of Round Lake High School get together to play the Bulldogs from Grant High School, one can usually expect a very well played competitive basketball game. When the two teams meet in regional competition one can expect the intensity level to jump several notches, but no one person can ever expect to see what they saw when the two met in the Antioch Class AA Regional Championship game Friday.

Round Lake prevailed 56-55 in a game that saw Grant stage a fourth quarter rally that only those players with nerves of steel could overcome.

The game see-sawed back and forth for the first 16 minutes. The Bulldogs took the lead 16-14 when senior center Tony Culotta came true on two shots from the charity stripe. Grant then opened up a four point cushion, 18-14, when senior guard Jim McGeever drove past two Round Lake defenders, laying the ball soft off the backboard for two of his game high 19 points.

A quick basket by Round Lake's Frank Russell, followed by a baseline drive for two points by Brian Richardson gave Round Lake the lead 21-18. With the games momentum swinging, Grant Coach Tom Maple called time out to reorganize his game plan after seeing his team get outscored 5-2.

Grant continued to look sloppy as the Panthers continued to roll, stretching their lead to 27-21. With the second quarter coming to an end Round Lake switched from their usual fast paced game to a slow lithargic pace, adding to their lead and going into the half time intermission up 29-23.

At the beginning of the second half, Grant received possession on the inbound only to loose it to the Panthers who immediately capitalized on the turnover with a three-point shot by Tim Dunn which marked the beginning of the third quarter surge which would give Round Lake a lead that any coach could be reasonably comfortable with. At the end of the third quarter, Round Lake had established a nine point lead 47-37. Although it was not a large margin, it looked to be enough to carry the Panthers through the final eight minutes considering the problems Grant was having at the time.

Between periods Maple must have used some magic words to get the spark back into his players because they came out for the final period with a completely different look, coming out with a pressure defense, forcing Round Lake to throw away the inbound pass.

On the ensuing possession Richardson, Round Lake's six foot, eight inch senior center got tagged with his fourth foul of the game, sending Grant's McGeever to the line. McGeever made both shots, bringing the Bulldogs within seven points and marking the beginning of a dramatic come back effort.

After several steals by McGeever were cashed in on, the Bulldogs saw themselves trailing by only two points after a 20 foot jump shot by Kip Paull. With three minutes remaining, Round Lake's Jeff Shook sinks one of two from the freethrow line giving the Panthers a three point lead.

With just over two minutes remaining Round Lake suffered what looked to be a very big loss as Richardson fouled out of the game. "I was very concerned, it shows the strength of our team when our big man had to sit and the other players picked up the slack," said Round Lake Coach Bob Ward.

With Richardson sitting, Grant looked to make their final move, however, they found themselves trading baskets and could not get the lead.

After the game coach Ward attributed the victory to good defense and an outstanding effort from the line. "Our freethrows have been great all year long."

Baseball camp coming to CLC's fields

Baseball players interested in getting jump on competition may take part in baseball clinic at College of Lake County March 12 and 13.

Billy Williams Baseball School will be conducting class. Participants will receive 11 hours of instruction over two weekends. Boys ages six to 13 as well as their fathers are eligible to participate.

For details, contact the Billy Williams Baseball School at (312) 655-1711.

TAX INCREASE NOT NECESSARY

These days, the NEA functions as a trade union, as bellicose and demanding as the miners, teamsters, & long shermen. They are demanding more money from us, The People. Read "Who's Ruining Our Schools," published by "Save Our Schools."

In the process, They want a tax increase which is driving The People on fixed income out of their homes. Thousands of people on fixed income do not have money to buy food from the 15th of the month to the end of each month and now they are faced with a postage increase on top of a tax increase.

THERE IS A WAY OUT THAT DOES NOT PENALIZE US IN LAKE COUNTY. There are 50,000 boats parked at marinas with trailers behind them. The trailers function as summer homes without the expense connected with them, such as fire, police protection and road cleaning. Put a tax on them as house trailers at $1,000 per unit and go up. Some of the trailers are $50,000 value. This would take the pressure off the homeowners in Lake County. Whatever it takes to get this tax on the house trailer owners. Do it and save yourself any tax increase.

BEST FOOT FORWARD

FROM THE OFFICE OF
DR. PAUL ABLER

"JOINT MICE"

"Joint mice" is the colorful name given to fragments of bone and cartilage that can be the aftermath of trauma or a disease process such as osteochondritis dissecans. Because the fragments are broken free and unattached within the joint capsule, a person with this condition may report that "something is loose" in the joint.

The knee is probably most often affected, although the foot and ankle can be sites for these loose bodies. A teenager may or may not recall an injury to the ankle and foot that triggered the problem, but will usually complain about pain that increases during sports or walking, and eases with rest.

The problems can be diagnosed with X-rays. In many cases, resting the affected joint will take care of the problem; however, when they are severe and continuous, a cast may be needed for a short period.

Traffic fatalities increase in 1988

Cpt. James R. Coffman, district commander, State Police Elgin, said the latest provisional figures which indicate that during the month of February, 101 persons died from injuries sustained from traffic accidents on Illinois streets and highways.

State Police, Dist. Two, which covers Lake, McHenry, DeKalb, Kane and DuPage Counties, reports 14 persons have been killed in these counties since Jan. 1. Thirty-three persons were also killed during the same period in 1987 in these counties.

A breakdown of the counties for statistics in February 1988 shows Lake County, four fatalities; McHenry County, two fatalities; DuPage County, three fatalities; Kane County, two fatalities; and DeKalb County, three fatalities.

As a comparison for February 1987, Lake County had four fatalities; McHenry, one; DuPage County, six; Kane County, two; DeKalb County, two.

There have been 210 persons killed in the entire state in 1988. There were 193 persons killed in the same period of 1987, showing an increase of 17.

Home sweet home?

"Home sweet home" may not be so sweet after all. According to National Wildlife magazine, studies have found that the air inside homes may be more dangerous to human health than the air outside. In fact, the number of people claiming to be victims of "building sickness" has tripled in this country since the early 1970's.

Traffic deaths

There were five traffic fatalities in Lake County in January, 1988, up from three in January, 1987 according to the Illinois Depts. of Transportation and State Police.

Taxpayers use checkoff forms

Illinois taxpayers used checkoffs on their state income tax forms last year to contribute more than $640,000 to Alzheimer's Disease research, child abuse prevention and wildlife protection, according to State Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County).

Two new checkoffs have been added this year to help send American athletes to the Olympic Games and buy computer equipment for people who are visually impaired. "Tax checkoffs make it easy to contribute to special causes that might be the first to suffer from budget cutbacks," Schaffer said. "Taxpayers only have to indicate which fund they want to support, write in the amount they want to give and subtract it from the total tax refund they expect to receive. An individual may give as much as $10 to each fund and couples can donate up to $20 per fund."

4-H clubs set to go up

"Up, Up And Away" is the theme for the Lake County 4-H Club International Night scheduled for Friday, March 11, 7 p.m. at the Lake County Fairgrounds. The general public is invited for this exciting trip around the world.

Passengers will have the opportunity to view cultural exhibits from a variety of countries.

Ethnic entertainment and food including a fabulous "breads of the world" table will be provided for the enjoyment of travelers and several foreign exchange students will be present to discuss their international experiences.

There is an admission charge of $1 per person (children five and under free). For further information call (312) 223-8629.

Candidates ready for voters' choice

DECISIONS, DECISIONS. ON Tuesday, March 15, we go to the polls to elect candidates for the November general election. In west Lake County, the winners of the Republican primary for County Board are assured of winning the general election. For full election coverage, be sure to pick up your local Lakeland paper next week. For same night coverage tune to WKRS (1220 AM) where your correspondent will be broadcasting live from 7 p.m. to midnight, interviewing the winners and losers, and giving pompous pronouncements on what it all means.

And now, a look at some of the more interesting issues and races to be decided.

FOR DEMOCRATS, THE choice appears to be amongst Michael Dukakis, Richard Gephardt, and favorite-son Paul Simon.

Dukakis, the governor of Massachusetts, is an old-time liberal who is unexciting but did one heck of a job reinvigorating the rust-belt economy of his state. I have been an admirer of Dukakis for three years.

Gephardt looks like Howdy Doody and has about as much between the ears. At a time when U.S. exports are booming again, Gephardt would lead us in a trade war. When the war begins, Gephardt better have a suitably populist explanation for all those folks in export industries who suddenly find themselves without work.

Simon is out of the race everywhere except in Illinois. When he was still a contender, Illinois voters were undoubtedly more tolerant than the Republican opposition of his poor attendance record in the Senate. Now that he is out of the race, he better start tending to the state's business. Otherwise, like Chuck Percy, who played to national applause while ignoring the home folks, he will find the home folks unforgetting and unforgiving when seeking reelection.

RESIDENTS OF DIST. 4 are in the catbird seat. No matter which two of four contenders are elected, the district will be well represented.

Incumbents Fred Popp (R-Lake Villa) and Jim Fields (R-Antioch) are being challenged by Larry Leafblad of Highland Lake and Suzi Schmidt of Lake Villa.

In the two years I have known Popp, a five-year veteran of the board, he has been a hard-working straight shooter. It is largely to his credit that serious problems with the sewer system in much of Dist. 4 are being resolved. He has earned reelection.

Fields, who is also chairman of the County Board, has frequently seemed inattentive to local problems and slow to act on them. As County Board Chairman, his low-key temperament has served him well. Certainly, a lot of people were involved, but nonetheless it has been on his watch that the Heartland lawsuit was resolved and that the water agency and solid waste agency got serious about dealing with these difficult problems.

Leafblad, a popular bandleader, radio personality, and marketing expert, could become a bridge between the regular and independent Republicans. Many of the independents claim to be environmentalists while opposing improvements to water and sewer systems and posturing on the impending garbage crisis. Leafblad is an environmentalist who supports such improvements and is earnest in seeking an answer to the garbage crisis.

Schmidt, too, is an environmentalist. She lambasts Popp and Fields for failing to do more to resolve zoning violations in unincorporated areas. It is a legitimate criticism that both incumbents have sidestepped.

THE INCUMBENTS HAVE split up in Dist. 6, a key battleground in the war between regular and independent Republicans. Incumbent Jerry Beyer (R-Wauconda) is running with Cuba Twp. Sup. Wayne Miller representing the regulars. Incumbent C. Richard Anderson (R-Barrington) and former Buffalo Grove Trustee Roberta "Bobbie" O'Reilly are carrying the banner for the independents.

Support for Beyer and Miller is rock-solid in Wauconda and among most municipal leaders in the district. Beyer has been touted by State Rep. Dick Klemm (R-63) and State Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-32) as one of the most knowledgeable township supervisors in the state, particularly on environmental issues.

Solid defense paves way for Blue Devils

A classic, it was not. For Warren's basketball team, its players, coaching staff and fans, Friday's 34-25 win over Carmel in the Mundelein regional final was more than enough to resume the post-season celebration which started when the girls team won its regional en route to the Elight Eight.

The victory gave the Blue Devils a spot in the Waukegan East Sectional against Round Lake.

Like all Warren wins, it boiled down to defense. That's defense with a capital 'D'.

"I thought we played outstanding team defense. That was the best 32 minutes of defense we have played," Warren Coach Darrel Bader said.

Although all of the Blue Devils, 22-5 after the regional title, played solid defensively, Bader singled out junior Mark Eifert.

"A lot of the credit has to go to Eifert. His play against Scott Stahoviak was the key," Bader said.

Eifert, playing against Stahoviak in Warren's man-to-man held Carmel's leading scorer to just seven points. Eifert scored just four points, but half of those came when he canned two critical free throws with 1:21 left.

While Eifert shined on defense, Dave Sjong turned the tide on offense.

It was Sjong's three-pointer from the baseline which at the third quarter buzzer which gave Warren an eight-point lead.

"Sjong's three-pointer turned the momentum back to our favor," Bader said.

The win over the Corsairs provided the Blue Devils with sweet revenge. Two years ago, the Corsairs eliminated Warren in overtime in the regional final at Libertyville.

For Carmel, who finished at 15-12, the loss was attributed to: a) Warren's defense and b) and inability to score. The Corsairs made just eight-of-27 shots, 23 percent. Warren did not exactly shoot the lights out at 42 percent, but the Corsairs did not overcome a first half in which they scored just two field goals in 16 minutes.

"They don't allow you to get things going very well," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said of Warren.

The first quarter against the Blue Devils was a 180 degree difference than the first quarter the Corsairs put together against Mundelein in their first round win. Carmel led 20-4 against the Mustangs after one, but against Warren, committed six turnovers. A layup by Stahoviak gave Carmel its only lead of the game at 2-0 at the 5:37 mark. Warren then built up an 11-4 margin and led 13-6 after one.

The second quarter was all Warren. The Blue Devils put together an 8-2 stanza by using deliberate offense. Two three-pointers from Sjong and a layup by Derek Shelton gave Warren a 21-8 halftime bulge.

"When you're up by 13 points at halftime, you know the other team will come out in your face but you don't want to get too conservative," Bader said.

Indeed, a new Carmel team took the floor at the start of the second half. Rosberg went to his small lineup and immediately put on a press.

A steal and layup by Eric Bruksch and a 17 foot jumper by Ken Moreano closed the gap to eight, forcing Warren to call timeout. The lead continued to dwindle when Stahoviak was fouled and sank a free throw and Bruksch's shot brought Carmel to within three. The Corsairs came to within three again on two Stahoviak free throws.

Carmel kept its chances alive in the fourth quarter as Warren missed five free throws.

Senior Dave Nolan led Warren in scoring with 10 points and had as many rebounds. He was the only player from both teams to tally in double figures.

Corsairs ease Rosberg's concerns, earn brag rights

Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg was more than a little concerned before his team battled Mundelein.

"I really was scared coming in. We have not played well against teams we have beaten," Rosberg said.

Mundelein had taken the Corsairs into the final minute of the second game of the year before losing in November. Carmel, though, headed its coaches' pre-game advice and whipped Mundelein 67-37 at Mundelein.

"I'll admit the kids were kind of talking about Warren and that scared me, too," the first-year coach said.

Carmel started out burning the nets with a 12-for-13 shooting spree which included seven in a row. That gave Carmel a 20-4 lead after just eight minutes of play and the Battle of Mundelein was essentially over for another year.

Scott Stahoviak led Carmel with 22 points and 12 rebounds while Jeff Kalk had 10. Carmel owned the inside game as Mundelein simply could not get the ball to its forwards. Carmel finished with 31 field goals on the night while Mundelein made just 11.

Guard Doug Sundell paced Mundelein, which finishes at 9-17, with 13 points and J.T. Mathwig had 10.

Carmel built up its lead to 20 points early in the second quarter. A basket by Sundell broke a Mundelein scoring drought from the field, but that was the hosts' 14th point. Carmel led 36-14 at halftime as junior Ken Moreano's hoop made it 36-14.

Mundelein could not get its offense going in the third quarter, either. Jason Rundall's basket with 3:03 left was Mundelein's first field goal of the quarter. Carmel led 50-19 after three.

The Mustangs made a mild run on Carmel to start the fourth quarter. A three-pointer by Sundell with 3:35 left capped off a 12-2 run. But Carmel made three straight free throws to keep its lead out of danger.

Flying Corsairs

Carmel defenders Randy Bierman and Eric Bruksch leap to try and block jump shot from Mundelein's Doug Sundell. Carmel's defense held Mundelein to just four points in first half and Corsairs cruised to 67-37 win. Victory at Class AA Regional earned Carmel bragging rights in Mundelein, as the Corsairs also beat the Mustangs in November. — Photo by Steve Peterson.

WHAT IS 4-WHEEL ALIGNMENT?

Every car, rear wheel or front wheel drive, has an imaginary centerline. All four wheels must be parallel to this line for proper handling and tire wear. When either the front or rear wheels are not parallel you will have poor handling performance, increased wear on suspension parts and tires!

DO YOU NEED IT?
You should have a periodic alignment check to find out.
